Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FIRST DAY, Wednesday, January 7, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L.Tatham.

Through joys, celebrations, holidays and hopes, and in the midst of the increasing complexity of human existence, we seek Your guidance and wisdom, O God. As this House of Representatives begins this session, standing at the threshold of a new year, we pray Your blessings on these who have been elected by the people of this state and on the staff who support their efforts. You, O Lord, know each one of them -- You know their needs, their motives, their hopes, and their fears.

Put your arm around them, O God of Love, and give them strength. May these representatives hear Your voice above all other voices; may they follow Your guidance above all other directives; may they seek Your will over the will of any lobbyists, advocates, or protesters. Most of all, may they feel Your presence as they work through the days that lie before them. Hear our prayers, O Lord, spoken and unspoken. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Representative Backer suggested the absence of a quorum.

SPEAKER ADDRESSES THE HOUSE

My grandfather turned 85 last year. In 1912 he was born in the hills south of Keytesville, Mo., where his great grandfather had located 70 some years before. His family---mother, father and four other siblings that would eventually become seven, lived on a few acres of hill ground in a house made of vertical boards.

In the winter brown paper would be placed around the walls to slow the wind from between the boards -- but providing little insulation from the cold. The family packed water from spring-fed ditches for drink and made meals, often composed of wild game, gravy, and things from the garden.

Pap, my grandfather's dad, would grow sweet potatoes and strawberries, trap furs and find farm labor jobs to bring in cash. It was a tough existence.

A lot has changed in the 85 years of my grandfather's life. The old horse drawn wagon that he rode with his mother to town in has been replaced by the automobile and the airplane; the woodstove by electric and gas heat; face-to-face communications by video teleconferencing and cell phones.

My grandfather's fifth grade education which served well enough to develop a trucking business and put together a large farming operation, would not be adequate preparation in the high tech world of today.

But as much as it has changed some things have not. My grandfather's parents wanted he and the rest of their children to be safe and healthy, to have a better life than they had, and to have the hard times making ends meet made easier. They wanted their children to be able to fulfill their dreams. In 85 years the desires of families in the hills south of Keytesville or in any other part of this state or nation have not changed.

So what does it mean to us as a state legislature?

All of us are here to serve the people of our districts, and to collectively serve the people of this state. Hopefully we are here in part to make this state a better place fore all of us live, work and raise our families -- to address the desires of families that have not changed, in a world that does.

In the last four years I believe we have made positive strides for families in Missouri. Missouri's economy, overall, is doing great. In the last year we have seen the creation of 62,000 new jobs, and we closed the year with a 3.6 percent unemployment rate. More than 2.7 million Missourians are working, which far surpasses all previous records in this state.

We serve a state that is rated third best financially managed in the country, one of a handful with a AAA bond rating, giving us the best possible interest on our bonds. And year after year we balance our budget in a state ranked 49th in the nation in tax burden as a percent of personal income.

Last year we were able to make it a little easier for families to make ends meet by eliminating the general sales tax on food. We made health care more accessible to our families by passing protections in a managed care bill that has become a model for the nation.

Two years ago we worked to raise the dismal immunization rate of young children in Missouri, protecting our children against dangerous illness and saving us all money by investing in prevention of illness instead of the treatment of it. In 1997, the immunization rate has risen an unprecedented 12 percent in just two years.

Welfare reform measures adopted in Missouri before the federal mandates have helped reduce Missouri's roles by 83,000. Workers' compensation reforms have taken skyrocketing rates that were making it difficult on Missouri's businesses and sent them rocketing downward.

Tough criminal sentencing laws requiring 85 percent of the sentence to be served before parole eligibility for dangerous felons and life sentences for sexual predators have helped make our streets and homes safer for our families.

And - very important - increased accountability for our schools coupled with fully funding the state's school foundation formula have reduced class sizes, given us more of the learning tools necessary for our children to be viable in the coming millennium and helped our ACT scores to rise faster than the national average.

This year we have an opportunity to continue to work for those goals that will maintain by our families. We have the opportunity to continue to offer help to hardworking Missourians trying to make ends meet.

Last year, we dropped taxes on food - something everybody needs. This year, let's give tax relief on something else everyone must have - shelter. Let us give an income tax credit toward a part of property taxes Missourians pay on their homes. And let us also not forget our seniors - without whom none of us would be where we are today - by expanding the property tax relief for seniors in Missouri laws.

I know that everyone in this chamber can, and in most cases will, think of many ways to cut taxes. But in a state that is 49th in tax burden and which must balance its budget, let us remember that revenue losses can adversely affect our children's future and the safety of our families as a result of cuts in law enforcement and corrections.

One of the most serious threats to Missouri has come from a drug that all of us have heard too much about in this state - meth. Missouri is at the top of the charts in production of meth in this country.

Over and over many of us have heard the stories of the ways meth affects the individual who uses it. But, it doesn't stop there - stories of families torn apart by the use of the drug, children exposed to its manufacture and use, happy lives turned to nightmares and sometimes extinguished.

Many of us have listened to law enforcement, community and family suggestions for additional tools in the battle against this drug. We cannot allow this horrible drug to destroy any more young people, any more families in this state.

Missouri has done much in the last few years to make this state an unwelcome place for sexual predators who prey on children and women. This year we have the opportunity to go further by adopting legislation that will allow dangerous public safety risks to be kept off our streets.

Let us work to pass a constitutional civil commitment law in Missouri for dangerous sex offenders with a propensity to add more victims to their lists.

The future of this state depends in large part on the opportunities of our children. The surest opportunity I know lies in education. Just as importantly, our children's ability to have a life that is better than ours depends in part upon their ability to be successful financially. For most of us, that means finding a good job.

If my grandfather has seen changes in this lifetime, it is likely that they will pale in comparison to what we will see. In the last 25 years those changes have been dramatic. Twenty-five years ago there were two military super powers -- today the U.S. is alone. Twenty-five years ago we were the only economic super power, now we share that place with Japan and the gradually uniting countries of Europe. The new economic competition to a great extent will affect the standard of living that workers have.

Jobs are more and more readily moved to cheaper labor markets. If we want to maintain higher standards of living, our workers must have higher skills that are in demand. To help give Missourians an advantage I propose that we focus some of our resources for higher education, including technical training, in a new program designed to give incentives for Missouri students to study in fields of high need in the state.

This program would offer loans to students in qualifying fields. These loans could be forgiven if the student graduates in that field and stays in Missouri. Missouri businesses would gain by having more individuals with needed skills and incentives for these students to stay in this state after graduation. Missouri would be assured its investment would pay dividends and, hopefully, this will attract more industry that operates with highly skilled jobs. A three way partnership between Missouri businesses, the people of the state, and Missouri students will benefit all the partners.

While we've done much to improve access to adequate health care, there is still a lot room for improvement. Each of us in this room has access to affordable health insurance upon election to this body. Yet, we still have 175,000 uninsured children in this state and we should not let another session go by without making health insurance for children more accessible to parents. Surely if this U.S. Congress can pass legislation and provide money for this purpose, this legislature can find a way to help parents' efforts to insure their kids.

But health insurance in not just an issue affecting children, it affects others as well, including many owners of small businesses who struggle to find affordable health insurance for themselves, their families, and their employees. Let us look for want for these Missourians to hep themselves in this endeavor.

Our families today have new and more difficult challenges to face than they did in my grandfather's youth. The necessity of making ends meet often means that children will be placed with others for their care. Parents have a right to know if they wish to inquire about criminal backgrounds of individuals providing care for their children. They should not have to wait to find out because of injury or death to their own child. Similarly, individuals being cared for in their homes ought to have a right to know about individuals who have a history of taking advantage of those who they are serving. And we are not going to allow teachers who have seriously hurt someone to remain in our children's classrooms.

In my grandfather's home, if you wanted something, the surest way to achieve it was to work for it. That concept, in my mind, also hasn't changed, whether it is an individual or a group, like ourselves, striving for the goal. We have already made progress for this session.

The Joint Interim Committee on Desegregation has done yeoman's work sorting through one of the most difficult issues of our time. Whether you agree with the recommendations or not, everyone should acknowledge their hard work and the fact that the legislature has made a step toward addressing this issue. Similarly, the interim committees on deregulation of utilities, transportation and others have helped sort through issues to give us a head start this session.

This session each and every issue will demand our attention, challenging us to weigh the pros and the cons as we seek to decide if it is in the best interest of the people of Missouri. Our work is cut out for us, as it is every legislative session. It seems as though the needs are ever more pressing, the necessity for our action ever more important.

The turn of the century fast approaches and the decisions we make today will usher in not only a new century, but a new millennium. I am heartened by what we have accomplished in four short years. I believe we can continue that constructive work during this legislative session.

As we busy ourselves with the work of making the laws that will govern the people of the state, it is often easy to forget the ideals that were established by our forefathers as the foundation of our daily work. Those ideals were not based on partisan politics. They were the ideals we agreed to support as a nation, as a people united under common ideals for liberty, justice, and freedom.

We agreed that all people would be equal before the law. We agreed that the people would vest the government with their collective power. We agreed that individual rights should be balanced with the protection of the welfare of the general public.

These principles have been a compelling force through out the course of our history.

They have been inspiration for millions of humans both here and abroad. The fundamental truths they represent beg us to remember them as we continue the work for the next four and a half months.

We have the tendency to think of our daily work, and the political negotiations that encompass it, as a fight between competing opinions. We fail to remember that it is a process by which we strive towards the principles on which our nation was founded. None of us have all the answers. But there must be a common belief that underlies our disagreements -- a belief that we are all involved in our work for the common good.

We are succeeding generations of legislative leaders in Missouri who professed through an oath to the people that they would work together to uphold the truths this state and our nation are founded on. Despite the changes in issues over the years, this commitment has not changed.

Today, let us renew our commitment to work together for the good of the people of this state. We have many challenges ahead, most based upon change. But never changing is our hope to help fulfill the desires of our families, to improve their lives, to help them grow up safe and healthy so they can have a chance to fulfill their dreams. Let us work to provide opportunity, so others have the opportunity to fulfill their dreams.

As Secretary Madeleine Albright said a few months ago: "The path ahead is difficult, but so was the journey already made." We have proven we can accomplish great things for the people of our state. We can and we must continue.

Thank you.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

SECOND DAY, Thursday, January 8, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

O God, You are the Lord of the field and the farm, the cities and the cathedrals. You are the Lord of the rich and the poor. We come into this place gathered from all walks of life, here to attend to the needs and issues that affect lives around this state. Grant that this day might be well lived; grant that the work we do might be well done; grant that the time that we spend might be well-spent as we seek to serve better and more faithfully our various responsibilities.

As those within these walls come here, refreshed by time spent in the company of loved ones, keep their energy alive for the tedious tasks that must be done. Help them tackle the big stuff with courage, and the little stuff with patience. Renew in each person here the assurance of Your presence. And help us live in right relation to one another, speaking with respect and courtesy, acknowledging each other as Your child.

We pray especially for the family of Representative Bill Hand who passed away last evening. He has served this state well. Receive him into Your Kingdom and comfort those who mourn his passing. Hear our prayer, O Lord. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Anthony Carrol and Ryan Carrol.

The Journal of the first day was approved as printed.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRD DAY, Monday, January 12, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Encourage one another and build one another up." (I Thess. 5:11)

It is good to be back for another year, another session and now that the pleasantries of the opening days are over we get more seriously into committee work and bill filing and re-writing.

Gracious God, it is with a profound sense of gratitude that we come before You today to serve in this chamber. Politics is by nature adversarial, but we ask You to help us build one another up, and encourage one another. Help us separate the idea from the person, and to give and take criticism as directed to the issue, and not the person. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Annie Allhoff and Steve Allhoff.

The Journal of the second day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has offered and adopted the following resolution.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 977

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate, that the Secretary of the Senate inform the House of Representatives of the election of the following officer:

Doorkeeper.....Ken Holman

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 30.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 30

WHEREAS, rural telecommunications customers have lesser toll-free calling scopes than do urban customers, and rural customers pay more on average in toll bills than do urban customers; and

WHEREAS, Community Optional Service (COS) was created to afford rural customers with toll-free calling scopes to lessen this disparity; and

WHEREAS, COS is of vital importance to rural customers, both in petitioning and target COS exchanges, which allows customers to reach friends, relatives, children, grandchildren, schools, medical providers, churches, and businesses on a toll-free basis; and

WHEREAS, in recent legislation enacted by the General Assembly, the intent was to foster competition as a substitute for regulation, where and when competition exists, and for the benefit of consumers in increased variety of service offerings, increased quality of service, and at lower prices. The legislation specifically retained the goals of universal service and parity of service between rural and urban areas. It was the intent of this legislation that rural customers not be harmed by increased competition; and

WHEREAS, recently the Public Service Commission (PSC) of the State of Missouri announced its decision to terminate COS by March 31, 1998; and

WHEREAS, the PSC failed to notify and give users of COS the opportunity to participate in this decision. The elimination of COS will be detrimental to rural customers and communities; and

WHEREAS, meaningful competition, and in some cases adequate facilities upon which increased competition can even be provided, is not yet present in the rural areas where COS is available, and is not expected to be available by March 31, 1998; and

WHEREAS, the PSC failed to protect rural customers by delaying the elimination of COS until it can be replaced by comparable or adequate substitutes for this vital service:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby direct the PSC to do the following:

1. Vacate the decision to eliminate COS by March 31, 1998.

2. Reopen the consideration of the decision as to whether to modify or eliminate COS.

3. Notify all affected members of the public, their local and state elected officials, and newspapers of general circulation, that the decision is being reconsidered, and announce local public hearings.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FOURTH DAY, Tuesday, January 13, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Give us today our daily bread." (Matt. 6:11; Luke 11:11. The Lord's Prayer).

Each year, the media gives us a run-down of the significant events of the past year. That process reminds us of what happens in our lives, and in the family and the institutions to which we belong. One of the things that strikes me each year is that apart from some highly publicized news stories, I had forgotten about many of the events that happened the previous year.

Eternal God, Lord of each moment, God of history, help me translate that thought into prayer. Let me take each event in perspective, knowing that things which bother me most today will fade away into memory. Let my priorities be set by prayer and thoughtful reflective time in light of Your Wisdom and the advice that comes from trusted friends. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Skyler Charles McDonald and Sarah Leleah McDonald.

The Journal of the third day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FIFTH DAY, Wednesday, January 14, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Gracious God, we are very mindful this morning of how dangerous winter weather can be. Here in Missouri we suffer the effects of minor inconveniences in travel. Help us remember those in our eastern states and our Canadian neighbors who are still shivering in houses without heat; who are struggling to find heat sources for food preparation; and who are becoming sick because of improper heating. These winter months can take their toll in profound ways. We remember too those of our neighbors in the southern states who have been beset by flood waters. Be present to all those who need Your intervention and bring them through these days.

In this House, O God, we seek to do the things that will help make better the lives of the people of Missouri. Be with Your people in this place, in all things great and small, so that small things become great, and great things become possible. And while these representatives are away from their homes and families, protect and keep their loved ones safe.

Give us now your spirit to guide and direct the proceedings of the day; blessed are You, O God of us all. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourth day was approved as printed.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Honorable Duane Benton. The Chief Justice was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the assembly in the Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS

By

Chief Justice Duane Benton

January 14, 1998

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Members of the 89th General Assembly:

It is an honor today to discuss with you the state of the judiciary.

Over the years, I have worked with the General Assembly in a variety of roles. My first connection to state government was working as an intern in the House. Later, while in law school, I drafted legislation for members of the House. More recently, the Senate confirmed me to four different positions on boards and in the executive branch. I've been at hearings that seemed to last forever, and others that were over in seconds. I must say that we all look much better at 10:30 in the morning, early in the session, rather than at 10:30 at night at the end of session.

Over the years, I have learned to approach the legislature respectfully but directly; prepared but with common sense. In that spirit, my message to you today is straightforward. The judiciary in 1998 is working smarter than ever. We in the courts, though, need your support if we are to continue to provide the highest level of service, access and justice to the people of this state.

The judiciary is working smarter today than ever before. Facing increasing caseloads, the courts are efficiently serving Missourians. The judiciary is doing more and more with proportionately less and less.

The judicial branch is the smallest of the three branches of state government. We spend less than three-fourths of 1 percent of the total state budget. Though a separate, equal branch of government, the judiciary is smaller than 13 of the 15 departments in the executive branch. While our cost is small, our impact is great; we deliver services to all citizens of the state. Court employees work in all 114 counties and the City of St. Louis, in all 34 senate districts, and in almost all, if not all, of the 163 House districts.

1) We decide cases that affect citizens throughout this state, from traffic offenses and consumer-merchant disputes, to death penalty cases and multi-million dollar lawsuits.

2) We provide ways for people to resolve their disputes informally in small claims court, and for abused persons to get immediate protection from their abusers.

3) We do all this in a way that benefits both the people of this state as well as those who make the system work: quickly and for as little expense to the state as possible.

People sometimes think that courts impact mostly lawyers, yet almost one-half of the cases in Missouri courts ordinarily do not involve the lawyers hired by your constituents. Since 1983, leaving aside traffic and ordinance violations, total caseload in Missouri courts has increased over one-half; 58 percent to be precise. During that same 15 year period since 1983, the number of trial judges you provide by law grew by less than 2 percent - one new circuit judge and five new associate circuit judges.

As in the past, the judiciary will not recommend an increase in the number of judges. It is a tribute to our hardworking judges that we do not need to request new judgeships. Missouri judges not only work hard, they also - as judges for the whole state - are flexible enough to serve where needed. Each day, I sign orders temporarily sending judges to work in high-volume courts, often miles from their homes. I stand ready any time to discuss with you, individually or in committee, those laws that require judgeships in courts with smaller caseloads, rather than where they are most needed on a more permanent basis in the courts with heavier caseloads.

When we think of the judiciary, we tend to think only of the judges that serve the public. Judges, of course, are one cornerstone of the judicial system. However, they cannot do their work without the necessary staff. I am reminded of a joke I used to hear before I became a judge: "The Supreme Court is where the finest legal minds in Missouri gather - to serve as law clerks to the judges." Seriously, those of you who have been to court have seen that court clerks make the system work. Clerks perform essential functions in the judicial process - handling case filing, notifying those involved in cases, collecting and disbursing money, recording court action and proceedings, and managing juries. Just like judges, the number of clerks and other employees funded by the budget has barely increased in recent years, yet there have been dramatic increases in the number of cases handled by these employees due to increases in crime, drug use, juvenile delinquency, adult abuse, divorce, and all kinds of litigation.

While the number of clerks has remained about the same, child support collection responsibilities have grown even faster than the case filing rate, and now are a major part of the workload in many circuit courts. In fact, open child support cases have increased over 144 percent during the last ten years. The task is huge - court clerks collected 395 million dollars in child support payments during fiscal year 1997.

Due to the tremendous caseload growth and shifts in Missouri population, many local courts are doing much more with the same number of employees. The clerk shortage varies from court to court. Statewide it is severe. The Circuit Court Budget Committee - composed of judges from all over the state - has requested a total of 147 new clerks in the fiscal year 1999 budget. This number may sound shocking. Please keep it in perspective. There have been no - zero - additional court clerks appropriated for the last two years, so any increase will cover a three year period. The 1,703 court clerks all over Missouri are dedicated and hardworking, but they cannot indefinitely continue to keep pace with escalating workloads.

There is another way you can alleviate the clerk shortage. We must leverage their time and effort, taking advantage of technology to streamline filing, casefile handling, trial, appeal and disposition of cases. We in the judiciary must continue to work smarter, but we need your help to do so.

Most of you are familiar with statewide court automation, which will automate the records and accounting of the judiciary statewide. Thank you for your vision and foresight in enacting the initial law in 1994 and renewing it last year. Carved in stone in the Rotunda of this building, it says, "Where there is no vision the people perish." You have shown admirable vision and leadership in automating Missouri's courts, just as you have recently automated this very chamber.

Even more recently, during the past two years, you passed legislation allowing automation of the judicial accounting systems. Before, judicial accounting was so convoluted that there was no dream of computerizing these systems. You may recall the diagram with all the lines going everywhere that Chief Justice Holstein showed you during his first State of the Judiciary speech. You have provided an efficient way to manage court records, to go hand-in-hand with the legal authority for computerization you previously passed.

We stand at the threshold of similar results in overall efficiency. The biggest changes from court automation are just beginning to happen. During the past few years, the clerks, attorneys, and judges on the Court Automation Committee have spent a great deal of time and effort to design a computer system that will meet the needs of Missourians for many years to come. We have moved deliberately, intentionally so, in order to avoid problems that have occurred with other computer systems - some costing two and three times as much as ours - that simply failed to work when installed. When the taxpayer's money and the judiciary's reputation are at stake, the system must work from the time installed.

I have news to announce today. The new system is up and running as I speak. Montgomery County has implemented the new case management system, which operates on the underlying structure of hardware and software designed by the Court Automation Committee. The clerks and judge in Montgomery County like the reduced paperwork, and say they now can do their jobs better. For civil and probate cases, a manual "paper" system is now automated. Previously, court clerks manually created a file, a fee sheet and a docket sheet - then manually indexed and scheduled the case. In the new system, these are all automatically created.

The case management software is next to be installed in Jackson County in Kansas City and Independence, and in the Eastern District Court of Appeals in St. Louis. Once the system works in a smaller rural court, large urban courts and an appellate court, the system is ready for any court in Missouri. By July 1, the system will be at the "ready to wear" point - that is, proven in small courts, large courts and appellate courts.

We now are at a critical turning point. Under the original plans, installing the new system in all courts was scheduled to take several years, so that some courts would not have the system until the year 2004. Rather than wait years for many of your constituents to see the benefits of court automation, we can provide these benefits now, at a lower total cost to the state. The benefits are clear; in addition to the more efficient installation process I have described:

1) We can provide law enforcement, social services agencies and other courts information about juvenile offenders in order to deal better with juvenile delinquency throughout the state, and implement the new juvenile justice system you enacted in 1995.

2) We can accommodate electronic filing in the courts - to speed case handling; to provide public access to court information; and to allow electronic storage and maintenance of tons of court filings, which is swallowing up all available storage space in some county courthouses.

3) We can build a jury management system that will reflect the population and permit more Missourians to participate as jurors.

4) We can make court records more accessible to more Missourians, easier and at lower cost.

These improvements do not come without cost. However, total costs will be reduced and service improved, if the automated systems are installed within a reasonable time frame.

The Governor has discussed these improvements with me and other representatives of the judiciary. He has expressed support for court automation and for the need to install the system statewide within a reasonable time, as opposed to piecemeal installation. I anticipate that the Governor's budget will properly accommodate these needs. I urge you to consider and support this budget item due to its great benefit to your constituents, the people of Missouri.

Though court automation is the most pressing challenge in the administration of justice, we in the judiciary are also "working smarter" on other issues. The Missouri Judicial Conference recently appointed a Task Force on Drug Courts. Drug courts are working in Jackson, Lafayette, Buchanan and Scott Counties and St. Louis City. Drug courts have been successful. Graduates have obtained the education and job training to make it in the world without drugs. The vast majority go on with their lives, do not re-offend, and have become productive members of society.

I thank Senators Caskey and Rohrbach, and Representatives May and Ross for serving on this multidiscipline task force, which also includes prosecutors, defense lawyers, educators, job training and drug treatment professionals, and others willing to discuss the structure and procedure of drug courts. Please use the Task Force on Drug Courts as a resource as you tackle the challenges of illegal drugs.

We in the judiciary are always willing to consider other ways to improve judicial operations. Last year, you seriously studied appointing circuit clerks rather than electing them. The circuit clerk has evolved to a highly responsible position that should be a professional manager of court business. In many ways, the circuit clerk should be similar to the positions of the Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the House - professional positions here in the legislature. Professionalizing these positions in the judiciary is worthy of your consideration.

I appreciate the opportunity to address you today regarding the state of your judiciary. As Chief Justice, I look forward to working with you over the next two sessions. If you have any questions about court automation, the judicial budget, or any other issue affecting the administration of justice, please let me know. Together we can continue the Missouri tradition: a judiciary of the highest integrity, providing service, access and justice to all Missourians.

The Joint Session was dissolved by the Lieutenant Governor.

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

SIXTH DAY, Thursday, January 15, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

It has always been our nature, O God of Creation, to turn to You in times of trouble. In this day and age when we find ourselves facing increasing national turmoil, increasingly angry young people who use violence as a common language; when we find ourselves doing battle both within the boundaries of our country and in foreign lands, we do indeed seek Your presence.

Come to us in our efforts to seek out the truth; come to us in our desires for justice and fair play; come to us in our deliberations and decisions. O God, only Your voice can guide our hearts and our minds in directions that will benefit humankind. Let us not think we alone can bring about the kinds of changes that are necessary to better the lives of those who have entrusted us with that responsibility.

As these representatives spend many hours in this place, give them strength, give them courage, and give them humility, that they may remember You who created us and all that surrounds us. May we ever live and act in accord with Your will, O God. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fifth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

WHEREAS, rural telecommunications customers have lesser toll-free calling scopes than do urban customers, and rural customers pay more on average in toll bills than do urban customers; and

WHEREAS, Community Optional Service (COS) was created to afford rural customers with toll-free calling scopes to lessen this disparity; and

WHEREAS, COS is of vital importance to rural customers, both in petitioning and target COS exchanges, which allows customers to reach friends, relatives, children, grandchildren, schools, medical providers, churches, and businesses on a toll-free basis; and

WHEREAS, in recent legislation enacted by the General Assembly, the intent was to foster competition as a substitute for regulation, where and when competition exists, and for the benefit of consumers in increased variety of service offerings, increased quality of service, and at lower prices. The legislation specifically retained the goals of universal service and parity of service between rural and urban areas. It was the intent of this legislation that rural customers not be harmed by increased competition; and

WHEREAS, recently the Public Service Commission (PSC) of the State of Missouri announced its decision to terminate COS by March 31, 1998; and

WHEREAS, the PSC failed to notify and give users of COS the opportunity to participate in this decision. The elimination of COS will be detrimental to rural customers and communities; and

WHEREAS, meaningful competition, and in some cases adequate facilities upon which increased competition can even be provided, is not yet present in the rural areas where COS is available, and is not expected to be available by March 31, 1998; and

WHEREAS, the PSC failed to protect rural customers by delaying the elimination of COS until it can be replaced by comparable or adequate substitutes for this vital service:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, hereby direct the PSC to do the following:

1. Vacate the decision to eliminate COS by March 31, 1998.

2. Reopen the consideration of the decision as to whether to modify or eliminate COS.

3. Notify all affected members of the public, their local and state elected officials, and newspapers of general circulation, that the decision is being reconsidered, and announce local public hearings.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

SEVENTH DAY, Monday, January 19, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Learn to do good, seek justice, correct oppression." (Is. 1:17)

Today we mark the birthday of Martin Luther King, Jr. The conventional wisdom from some is that we should be working today for equality, not integration. Many communities are re-starting or giving new life to the issue of racial reconciliation in recent months. The Christian Churches are making racial reconciliation a part of their efforts at overall reconciliation within themselves and with the other world-wide faiths and the human family as part of the great Jubilee Year 2000 celebrations, based on the biblical model in Leviticus, of having a year of freedom for the human family in the 50th year of Jubilee, the year after the seven by seven.

Gracious God, today we ask a special blessing on the efforts being made to achieve Your own goal set before us in the Hebrew Scriptures and in other major stories from our human past, that each one of us is a sacred person, and our dignity is not determined by our rank, status ethnicity or creed or lack thereof. We praise the humility and courage of those who are standing before the world today to ask for forgiveness for past mistakes and discriminatory behavior. May we all do so in the sanctuary of our hearts, the only lasting place for the change of attitude that will lead to a new way forward. We give thanks in a special way today for the non-violent message and the witness of Dr. King and pray that his efforts will inspire us to do what we can in our time each day. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Justin Reynolds, Sammy Reynolds, Casey Schach, Amanda Beasley, and Macy McKenny.

The Journal of the sixth day was approved as printed.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

EIGHTH DAY, Tuesday, January 20, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"My honesty will answer for me." (Gen. 30:33)

Two stories from today's news give pause. One is about the relative of a former member of this House from St. Louis whose body was buried as an Unknown Airman from the Vietnam War but whose identity was concealed for political purposes. The other is the speculation about the political implications of Pope John Paul II's visit to Cuba tomorrow.

Gracious God, today, we pray for the elimination of the crass manipulation of the public, by cynical public officials, wherever and whoever, particularly avoiding the kind of pain caused to the family's feelings. We also pray for a greater understanding of the role of faith in public life. Religious values have social implications and they do impact public policy, whether in Missouri or Cuba. We pray for a healthy religious community which does not cross its bounds and for a political leadership which does not try to co-opt or ignore a people's deeply held values. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Brant Mettler and Shannon Little.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

NINTH DAY, Wednesday, January 21, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

O God, before we become any more involved in this day, we pause to seek Your help. Experienced in the ways of the world, we find we know all too little of the ways of God. But You know us - You know our names, our thoughts, our motivations. Forgive us the faults and failures of past days and help us to look toward our tomorrows with hope and vision.

We pray today for our leaders, the Speaker of this House, Steve Gaw, Governor Carnahan; for our President Bill Clinton; for all those in positions of authority that they may fairly and justly use the trust committed to them for the good of all people. Remind each of us of the tremendous responsibility we have to think thoughts above our own selfish desire and do deeds that benefit more than our own personal agendas.

And now be present to us in these moments and in the hours before us, so that the business of this House proceeds in due order with Your guidance and direction. Blessed are You, Adonai Our God, Sovereign of the Universe who has given wisdom to mortals. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Katie Myers.

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Governor of the State of Missouri, Honorable Mel Carnahan. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the assembly in the Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

BY

GOVERNOR MEL CARNAHAN

January 21, 1998

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, Distinguished State Officials, Members of the 89th General Assembly, and Citizens of the State of Missouri:

INTRODUCTION

When we seek the foundation for a new century, we need not travel far. That foundation is found in the faces of our children.

As governor, I receive all kinds of letters. But the ones I treasure most come from these young people. When they share their questionstheir ideastheir dreams, you cannot help but realize how important the work we do here really is.

One of the letters I received came from a fifth grader from St. Louis named John Doyle, who wanted me to visit his school. In that letter, John was thinking ahead. He included a P.S. that read: "I wrote the President a letter and also asked him to come to my school. So make sure you aren't coming on the same day the president is."

Another letter I will always remember came from Jessica Herron of Paris. She just wrote me to say that she thought I looked pretty good for my age. Her civics teacher had told her how old I was, and she thought I looked twenty years younger. So naturally, I wanted you to meet such a perceptive and intelligent young lady. I might add that Jessica ended her letter by telling me to "keep looking good." Jessica, I just want you to know I'm trying.

Rachel Higginbotham from St. Louis sent me a leadership survey, which I filled out and returned to her. And then there are the thank you letters I get for all we are doing for education--like the one I received last summer from Ariel Roads of Moberly. Ariel had just attended our Missouri Scholars Academy where gifted students who will be high school juniors are selected to participate in three weeks of learning and enrichment activities to help them realize the full potential of their abilities.

We also have some other students from last year's Scholars Academy here today--Cecilia Kuntz of Cape Girardeau; Cali Howitt from Springfield; Shayla Day from New Madrid; Grant Ewert of Hannibal; Jean Yu from St. Louis; and Tanisha Robinson from Liberty. Would you all please stand, so we can show you how much we appreciate your being here.

One other Missouri Scholar is with us today, and I want to tell you a little bit about him because he is a young man whose letter made a great impression on me. That young man is Zachary Burden of Kansas City. Zachary attends Oak Park High School where he is on the Student Council, is deeply involved in music, and was President of his Sophomore class and of the Honor Society. As if that isn't enough, he has worked to coordinate activities for children at a local homeless shelter and worked with a home for teenage mothers. Zachary says, "the best way to lead is by example," and certainly Zachary is living by that creed. In his letter, Zachary talks about what makes a true leader, and he describes things such as standing up for what you believe, caring about the people you represent, and knowing when to stand firm and when to compromise. Zachary Burden wants to be a public officeholder, and I believe he would be a great one. Zachary, would you please stand.

Many of these young people like Zachary Burden may be public servants one day--some of them sitting in the very seats you occupy now. These young people will be running our businessescaring for the sick and needyteaching the generation to follow. That's why I wanted you to meet them.

They are the faces of the futureour futureMissouri's future. And the decisions we make over the next few months will have a direct effect on the path their lives will take.

Our legacy should be a solid foundation for these young people to build on--a Missouri that answers their questionsencourages their ideasfulfills their dreams.

ECONOMY

Building a solid foundation for the faces of the future begins with a strong economy. Missouri's economy is packing a solid punch with all major economic indicators continuing to flex their muscles.

Since I took office, we have created more than 317,000 new jobs. In fact, over the years of our administration, Missouri's job creation rate has grown a full percentage point faster than the nation's. Our exports have doubled. Last year, Missourians' personal income rose 5.9 percent. And at 3.5 percent, our current unemployment rate has reached an historic low--almost a full percentage point below the national rate.

Our economy is doing so well because business has confidence in Missouri. We have established a good climate for investment. We are keeping the quality of our work force up. We have a highly skilled work force that is one of the most productive in the country. And we have a well-defined educational network that gives workers the skills they will need to succeed in the emerging high-tech economy of the 21st century.

We are keeping the cost of doing business down. For example, by increasing the competition between insurance companies to provide workers compensation coverage, premiums for businesses have declined by approximately $236 million--with a 10 percent decrease just in the last year alone.

We will continue to work toward improving our business climate and creating jobs for Missourians. And we will continue to keep the financial affairs of state government in order.

We will continue to keep our debt and tax burden low. Currently, only one state in the entire nation has lower combined state and local taxes. And year after year, we balance our state budget.

I want to acknowledge our two budget chairs, Senator Lybyer and Rep. Franklin, as well as the members of their committees, for their role in keeping our state on sound financial footing. Because of our careful budgeting practices, excellent financial management, and pro-active approach to economic development,

Missouri continues to be nationally recognized.

TAX CUTS

As a result of our strong economy, we can offer Missourians new tax relief again this session. Last year, we left more money in our citizens' pockets by cutting the state sales tax on food. This year, we want to cut taxes on another necessity--the home.

Our tax cut, called the Homestead Property Tax Credit, would help Missourians who pay real property tax or rent. Homeowners making under $100,000 per year would be eligible for a partial tax credit on property tax paid. Renters would be given partial tax credit.

Most Missouri households would realize a $70 savings from this action. For the average married couple, this tax cut would equal almost ten percent of their property tax. The tax cut would begin in tax year 1998 and benefit approximately 2.9 million Missourians. Providing this new tax cut will enhance our national reputation for budgetary responsibility and offer more relief for our working families.

A second action I am proposing offers enhanced property tax relief to those Missourians who need it most--our seniors and Missourians with disabilities. We currently offer a property tax credit for seniors and the disabled known as the Circuit Breaker, which allows many of these citizens to stay in their own homes rather than being forced to go into nursing homes or other care facilities.

Under our proposal, we will increase the number of elderly and disabled Missourians who qualify for this credit, increase the number who receive the maximum credit, and increase the amount of partial credit for those who are eligible. We will raise the income thresholds for married filers so that those earning up to $27,000 could participate. For single filers, those earning up to $25,000 will now be eligible.

Taken together, our Homestead Property Tax Credit and the expansion of our Seniors and Disabled Property Tax Credit will provide broad-based and meaningful tax relief, just as we did last year when we eliminated the state sales tax on food.

When our 1997 and 1998 tax cuts are fully implemented, we will have cut Missourians' taxes by over $460 million a year. This is significant relief that targets the two basics in every Missouri household--food and shelter. In addition, these tax cuts strike a solid balance between our desire to offer Missourians additional tax relief and the need to safeguard the investments we are making to improve their quality of life.

By maintaining that critical balance, we ensure that our strong economy and quality of life will continue. Our efforts to improve the education of our children, move people from welfare into the work force, and keep our citizens safe from dangerous criminals must advance if we are to continue to improve our quality of life.

Compromising our investments of today would sacrifice the future of the faces of tomorrow.

EARLY CHILDHOOD CARE AND EDUCATION

From the moment these faces of tomorrow come into the world, they are looking to usfor lovefor carefor instruction. The latest research confirms that the direction our children's lives will take is substantially shaped by the first five years of their lives. So it's crucial that we offer our children the resources and experiences they need to grow into bright, responsible adults.

Failure to provide the best care and education for our children in the beginning means we will be paying a high price in the end. Criminal behavior, illiteracy, poor health, and lack of productivity and personal responsibility are much more difficult to reverse later in life and certainly more costly.

We must provide our children with the opportunities they need to be successful. Yet, today, more and more parents must seek help in providing early care and education. More than 60 percent of our parents with children under the age of six work outside the home.

The constantly increasing number of families with two working parents, single working parents, and former welfare recipients moving into work means more Missouri children are receiving more of their care and education outside the home than ever before. Unfortunately, those services are not always easily available, affordable, or of the best quality. And no parents are at their best, personally or professionally, if they must worry constantly about finding someone that they can afford and trust to take good care of their child.

Building on the work of our Commission on Early Childhood Care and Education, I am proposing a three-pronged initiative in this area. First, we must expand the availability of early childhood care and education. Second, we must improve the quality of this education and care. And third, we must enhance health screenings during the critical first three years.

To expand availability, we propose encouraging public schools to create voluntary pre-kindergarten programs we call "Jump Start." The schools who choose to offer these opportunities will have local control and be able to tailor their approach to be responsive to the needs of their individual communities.

Some voluntary pre-kindergarten opportunities such as the Schools of the 21st Century in Independence are already springing up in our state. We need to encourage this trend by providing start-up grants and other incentives. The result will be more options for more parents and their children.

Expanding access to child care for low-income working families must also be targeted. Since I took office, we have moved more than 82,000 people off of the welfare rolls.

But if our success is to continue, access to affordable child care is imperative. Therefore, our budget will establish 3,900 more child care openings, specifically aimed at helping parents move from welfare to work.

Our second area of concentration targets improving the quality of child care. To help ensure a quality child care work force, we call for scholarships to workers to cover 75 percent of the cost of the continuing training required to work in a licensed child care facility.

In addition, we will bring more training opportunities to in-home providers through our Educare initiative. To encourage the private sector to provide more high quality child care options, we propose redirecting resources to increase reimbursements by 20 percent to our best child care facilities---those that are "accredited".

Our third priority will be early childhood screenings. For the first time, developmental screenings of children under the age of two will be available to every Missouri family that wants them.

Early detection and treatment of delays and problems are critical, so we must make every effort to identify those conditions before it is too late to correct them. We currently have a good network that provides developmental screenings, but it is not complete.

Our initiative will expand access to our nationally recognized Parents As Teachers program and other services that promote healthy development for our youngest citizens. We believe by concentrating on these three areasavailability, quality, and screenings...we can ensure the success of the most important investment in our future--our children.

We all know child care can never take the place of parents. It is only an assurance that in the working parents' absence their child is receiving support, protection, and enrichment. Making available this kind of quality care helps ensure that our faces of the future will enter school ready to learn.

HEALTHY CHILDREN

All of our faces of the future should be healthy faces. Currently, we have 175,000 Missouri children who have no health insurance. Some of them are from families who cannot afford insurance for anyone in the family. Others come from families where employers provide insurance for a parent, but no family coverage, and the cost of an individual policy for that child is more expensive than their family can afford. Many of these children are deprived of good preventive health care services and treatment.

This is unacceptable. By insuring these children, we can prevent many childhood illnesses and disabilities and the expense that accompanies them. Last year, we proposed offering parents access to low-cost private health insurance for their children through our Kids Care Initiative. Even though it enjoyed broad public support and would have made a great positive impact on the health of Missouri's children at no cost to state taxpayers, the legislature failed to pass Kids Care.

Fortunately, the President and Congress both agreed to greatly expand the national commitment to children's health. So last August, our administration filed for a federal waiver to take full advantage of the new federal resources for children's health care.

Today, I am proposing a Children's Health Initiative that builds on our existing Medicaid managed care program to save administrative costs, speed start-up, and ensure consistency of children's health care. The new federal resources will allow us to expand the availability of this managed care coverage for children up to 300 percent of the federal poverty level.

Our proposal also includes strong safeguards to make certain children are not transferred out of existing private insurance plans. These safeguards include co-pays and sliding scale premiums if this side effect, sometimes called "crowd-out," occurs.

Last year, both the Missouri House and the Senate approved language providing children's health care up to 300 percent of the poverty level. By giving your legislative approval of this action again, we can make health care coverage available for 90,000 of Missouri's uninsured children.

Through proper health care and child care, we can ensure our faces of the future get the best start in life.

EDUCATION

Once our children have a healthy start in life, we must ensure that the next stage of their development is strong.

They must receive the education and training they need from our schools to succeed in the work force of a new century. Providing those opportunities for the faces of the future is the most important priority of our administration.

The reforms of our Outstanding Schools Act continue to improve the quality of education in classrooms all across Missouri. Reduced class sizes, more computers, better vocational education, more highly trained teachers, curriculum improvements, higher academic expectations, and more thorough testing of progress are all having an impact on the level of learning in our schools.

Once again this year, we will be fully funding our new, more equitable school foundation formula so all of our students can have the tools they need to achieve. I am also optimistic about the progress that is being made to remove our urban schools from the control of the federal courts.

The joint committee that studied our urban education problems last year did a thorough job. Certainly, there are a number of issues to be worked out, but the committee's recommendations contain ideas worthy of thoughtful consideration.

Our administration is committed to two goals: bringing court-ordered desegregation to an end and even more importantly, ensuring that all Missouri students, both urban and rural, have access to a quality education.

I look forward to working with you during the session as we search for ways to fully achieve those two goals.

Another barrier to some of our children receiving a quality education is unfit teachers. Recent newspaper stories focus on the fact that there are some teachers who are still in the classroom after having been convicted of felonies.

While the vast majority of our teachers are exemplary role models, we cannot tolerate the presence of teachers who may be dangerous to our children's well-being. These unfit teachers--few as they may be--have the potential to do irreparable harm to countless students.

I have already issued an executive order that directs our state agencies to compare the records of certified teachers against the records of serious felony convictions. Now I am asking you to take the necessary legislative action to remove any unfit teachers from the classroom immediately.

Our proposal would automatically revoke the certificates of teachers convicted of a serious felony crime such as murder, rape, sodomy, child molestation, and drug trafficking. We must see that our children are not placed at risk because of criminals in our classrooms.

Another danger to students in the classroom is inappropriate material on the Internet. Thanks to our expanding computer technology, the Internet has become indispensable in opening the libraries of the world to even the most remote schools.

I am proud that you and I have helped schools get access to the Internet. However, unlike our school libraries, the Internet is not strictly designed for students and permits access to inappropriate material for young people.

I want to make the Internet safe for students by helping schools purchase software that blocks access to these inappropriate sites. This software can prevent certain words from being used in computer searches, blocks access to particular sites, or allows access to only approved sites.

While some schools have begun to purchase this software, their purchases have been limited due to financial constraints. Our initiative would make grants available so that within two years, this software to make the Internet safe for our children could be purchased for any school that wants it.

We must continue to expand access to technology for our students. But we must do so in a way that protects our children. I believe this effort will allow us to keep that critical balance.

In addition to access to technology, it is imperative that our young people realize how important post secondary education is to their ability to compete in the world today. A high school diploma is no longer sufficient for much of today's job market.

A thirteenth and fourteenth year of education has a dramatic effect on our citizens' earning power. Yet the rising cost of receiving any education above high school is a major barrier for many Missourians. So we must be committed to helping more of our citizens obtain the skills they desire.

President Clinton's Hope Scholarship has been approved on the federal level to offer up to a $1,500 federal tax credit on tuition and fees for students who want that thirteenth and fourteenth year. But even with the Hope Scholarship, we have gaps. The Hope Scholarship does not cover some of our low-income students.

Therefore, I am proposing a Bridge Scholarship this year that will bridge the gaps between the Hope Scholarship and other sources of financial aid. Under the Bridge Scholarship plan, students who cannot take full advantage of the Hope Scholarship and other financial aid could still receive up to $1,500 a year with a lifetime maximum of $3,000.

Bridge Scholarships will provide us with a seamless federal-state approach that will give our citizens access to the opportunity of a 13th and 14th year of education.

CRIME

Just as important as shaping our faces of the future for success is our responsibility to protect them from harm.

Our administration has already made great strides in reducing crime rates through our tougher sentences for dangerous criminals and violent juvenile offenders, our lifetime sentences for sexual predators, and our increase in better trained and equipped law enforcement officers.

But right now, another threat is stalking our citizens throughout the state--the monster known as methamphetamine. It lurks in homes, barns, sheds, cars, and hotel rooms, leaving a trail of contamination, death, and destruction in its wake.

Once trapped in "meth's" addiction, the victims face severe health damage or in many cases, death. The reason for its popularity in the drug market is that it's easy and cheap to produce and buy.

Our state has become a "Meth Mecca" because our geographic location provides convenient access to any part of the United States and our rural nature makes it easy to hide an illegal lab in isolated areas. These labs can explode, endangering the lives of innocent people nearby. Law enforcement officers are often seriously injured just from the fumes when they attempt to break up one of these labs. And each pound of "meth" produced in one of these labs creates five to six pounds of hazardous waste to pollute our air, water, land, and livestock.

With all of the dangers "meth" carries with it, it is imperative that we make a coordinated effort to rid our state of "death by meth."

As a result of recommendations from our "Meth" Summit last fall, I am proposing a three-pronged attack to crack down on "crank"--an attack that:

--toughens laws against manufacturing and trafficking;

--gives more resources to law enforcement;

--and expands treatment options for those addicted.

I am urging that we impose penalties that place "meth" manufacturing and trafficking in the same criminal categories as other highly addictive drugs. I'm calling for reductions in the amount of "meth" that is necessary as evidence to gain a felony conviction. I'm ordering new investigative, crime lab, and officer safety equipment as well as new "meth" training for officers. And I'm proposing new prevention and early intervention services to catch at-risk young people early.

We must stop this "epidemic of evil" from spreading across our state and infecting our citizens.

As I mentioned earlier, as a result of legislation the General Assembly passed in 1996, our courts and prosecutors now have the tools to sentence individual "sexual predators" to a life sentence. However, because of pending constitutional issues at that time, our new law did not apply to those who are already in our correctional and mental health systems.

But now that the courts have settled the issue, I believe we must take further steps to make certain that the citizens of our state are not victimized by these threats to our society.

I urge the General Assembly to enact legislation which allows the departments of Corrections and Mental Health to identify and detain in custody those individuals who are likely to attack again but are not subject to our current sexual predator law. This is another significant step in giving Missouri citizens the safety they deserve.

In providing that safety, I believe there is another action we must take this legislative session. We must fund the replacement of our Jefferson City Correctional Center for the safety and security of both the community and the correctional staff.

This prison has served the citizens well since 1836 but has become increasingly more costly to operate and maintain over the years. By replacing this facility now, we will enhance public safety while saving Missouri taxpayers $49 million.

I want to acknowledge Senator Lybyer for his work on this issue. He has been a longtime supporter of this replacement because of its benefits to public safety and its cost-effectiveness.

By continuing to provide strong weapons to fight crime in Missouri, I believe we can keep our commitment to protect the hope that is found in our faces of the future.

CONCLUSION

As you know, I visit with many schoolchildren. And in those faces, I can see that hope burning. In those young people's eyes, I see the intelligence, the enthusiasm, and the energy that will build a better Missouri for all of us. Our actions in the months ahead will give our children that chance.

Recently, when I had a public event with a group of third graders, at the end of our time together, one little boy was giving interviews to the media. When one of my staff remarked that the next Walter Cronkite was standing there, the little boy's teacher told her: "You don't know how much today means to him. All his life he has been shuffled from one foster home to another. But today, he's somebody."

I believe all our citizens should have the opportunity to be somebody. I know I will never forget the action of someone years ago that inspired me to want to be somebody.

When I first ran for state representative, he gave me a buckeye. Now in the Ozarks, where I come from, a buckeye is supposed to bring good luck. But to me, receiving that buckeye was more than that. To me, that simple gift said: "Someone believes in you."

I carried that buckeye for years in my pocket, and every time I touched it, no matter what was happening in my life, good or bad, that message came back to me: "Someone believes in you." The man who gave me that buckeye was my father.

Even to this day, I keep one in my desk drawer. And opening that drawer is like opening up all that love, that strength, and that inspiration that he gave to me.

So before we came here today, I gave each of these young people a buckeye. I gave it to them in the hope that it will always be a reminder, no matter where life may take them, that we believe in them.

And that's why we're here today. Because we believe in our young people. We believe in our state. We believe in our future. May God grant us the strength and the wisdom in the days ahead to act on that faith--a faith in the faces of the future.

The Joint Session was dissolved by the Lieutenant Governor.

Speaker Gaw resumed the Chair.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TENTH DAY, Thursday, January 22, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

In the close of this week we stand on perilous ground, O Lord. The possibilities of continuing peace negotiations seem slim; the threat of retaliations and armed conflict seem all too possible; and the frailties of our own human nature have become all too apparent. Help us, O Creator of all that is human and divine, to acknowledge the failings in our own lives before we stand in judgment of the failings of others. And yet, even as we recognize our weaknesses and ask forgiveness, remind us too of our accountability to one another and help us seek to be better people.

We thank You for being present even in the midst of difficulty and the stresses of life. As these representatives carry on the business of this House, may they be comforted by the knowledge that Your ultimate will will prevail, for You are God and there is none greater. Hear us, forgive us, and send us Your grace. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the ninth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

ELEVENTH DAY, Monday, January 26, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"My flesh may fail...but God is the strength of my heart." (Ps. 73:26).

What a week - the Pope in Cuba, the 25th anniversary of one of the most divisive decisions in our moral consciousness, the crisis surrounding the President and on the lighter side, the upset in the Super Bowl game, which of course was not on the lighter side for the Green Bay Packers. Our priorities as custodians of the First Amendment's guarantee of a free press (media in modern terms) may also be once again out of balance - some of those serious factual news stories were frankly dumped in favor of rumors which would have and will unfold in due time with respect to the other constitutional guarantees that we have, presumption of innocence and due process and the grand jury process.

Eternal God, on whose authority and power and forgiving spirit we rely, we pray today for all the persons in all of these issues. We pray especially that our leadership among the nations might be seen fairly and completely, all are treated equally, none are above the law. While we also have a guaranteed Bill of Rights, we also pray that integrity, decency and balance and fairness might more and more characterize our domestic issues especially with a view as to how they affect our role among the nations which have become a global village thanks to the gift and the dark side of media coverage. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensaton: Nathan Rowland, Michael Hoeh, Katie Kutz, Britney Weibrecht, Nathan Fritsche and Cindy Rhyne.

The Journal of the tenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWELFTH DAY, Tuesday, January 27, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"There will be glory, honor, and peace for everyone who has done good." (Rom. 2:10).

This evening we will listen to or watch the State of the Union message from the President. Prurient interest, once again unfortunately, is expected to increase the audience. It is ever thus that the important things do not receive as much of our attention, or as some wise person put it, small minds talk about people, big minds talk about ideas.

Eternal God, whose presence and authority are recognized in the Preamble to the U.S. and Missouri Constitution, this morning, we add our prayers to those of the thoughtful ones who are praying for the nation at this time. We pray that out of the evil, good might come. We pray for whatever adjustment, change, or holding fast we need to do in the Union, and whatever is needed to correspond in this Capitol Building during this session. We rejoice in the separation of powers, messy as that system sometimes gets, and we ask for an openness that after the partisanship and the ideological differences and the separate powers and party loyalties are heard and debated and honored, the Union may be stronger and our citizens more involved and justice may be done. Our prayer, gracious God, is that Your power, Your sovereignty, Your agenda and Your justice might be what guides us as we go about the human business of sorting it out. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eleventh day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTEENTH DAY, Wednesday, January 28, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Gracious and Forgiving God, we pray today for this country, this state, and the people who have committed themselves to it; for our President and his family; for the families of all those whose lives have been turned to the public eye. We pray for all whose position and authority place them in the reality of public scrutiny, including each member of this House. Remind us, O Lord, that none of us are without fault. We've all made poor choices; we've all made bad judgment calls; and we all stand in need of your forgiveness. Remind us also that only those who are without sin have been invited to throw stones.

As these representatives face the issues of state business - dealing with the number crunching of budgets, the importance of changes and improvements to our educational system, and the everyday oversight of administration, give them the insight to deal with the business at hand, to put aside pettiness and personal agenda; to set aside popular opinion polls and greasing the squeakiest wheel, and to get down to what it takes to see that the needs of people of Missouri are tended to with justice and expediency. Bless us and our efforts in Your name, O God. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The following House Bill was referred to the Committee indicated:

HB 1412 - Critical Issues

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 31:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 31

An act by concurrent resolution and pursuant to Article IV, Section 8, to repeal 10 CSR 80-2.013 relating to requirements for an application for a solid waste disposal facility permit.

WHEREAS, The Department of Natural Resources filed notice of proposed rulemaking for 10 CSR 80-2.013 on October 10, 1996, and filed the order of rulemaking with the Committee on Administrative Rules on March 24, 1997 with notice of intent to file with the Secretary of State on April 23, 1997; and

WHEREAS, the proposed rule requires an applicant for a solid waste disposal permit to conduct two separate public meetings known as "public awareness and community involvement sessions" at an estimated cost of $10,000 to the applicant; and

WHEREAS, Sections 260.200 to 260.241, RSMo, specifies the requirements for an application for a permit which not only does not require the applicant to conduct public meetings, but rather requires the Department to hold such public hearings; and

WHEREAS, the sole authority delegated to the Department to promulgate and adopt rules and regulations is specifically limited in Section 260.225.1.(3), RSMo, to "such rules and regulations relating to solid waste management systems", 10 CSR 80-2.013 relates to the permit application process rather than to solid waste management systems; and

WHEREAS, the General Assembly has not delegated any rulemaking authority to the Department concerning the requirements for the application for a permit, but rather, the General Assembly has preempted the requirements for the application process which does not include the holding of public sessions and the attendant cost related thereto; and

WHEREAS, 10 CSR 80-2.013 may be published by the Secretary of State on or after January 22, 1998; and

WHEREAS, Executive Order 97-97 provides that Executive Departments shall give force and effect to concurrent resolutions; and

WHEREAS, the Joint Committee on Administrative Rules has found that the Department has exceeded its rulemaking authority and recommends that the General Assembly act to permanently suspend and/or revoke 10 CSR 80-2.013:

NOW THEREFORE, the General Assembly finds that:

1. 10 CSR 80-2.013 relates to the permit application process and purports to add additional requirements that are not provided in Sections 260.200 to 260.241, RSMo; and

2. The General Assembly has preempted the application process and has specified all of the requirements for obtaining a permit in Section 260.205, RSMo; and

3. The Department has no authority to increase the requirements for obtaining a permit; and

4. Section 260.225, RSMo, limits the authority of the Department to issue rules to those rules related to the solid waste management systems and no authority has been delegated to the department to issue rules which create additional, substantive requirements necessary to apply for a permit.

NOW THEREFORE, the eighty-ninth General Assembly, upon concurrence of a majority of the elected members of the Senate and a majority of the elected members of the House of Representatives, hereby permanently revokes 10 CSR 80-2.013; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of the foregoing be submitted to the Secretary of State so that the Secretary of State may publish in the Missouri Register, as soon as practicable, notice of the revocation upon this resolution having been signed by the Governor or having been approved by two-thirds of each house of the Eighty-ninth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, after veto by the Governor as provided in Article III, Sections 31 and 32, and Article IV, Section 8 of the Missouri Constitution; and

FURTHER, that a properly inscribed copy be presented to the Governor in accordance with Article IV, Section 8 of the Missouri Constitution.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FOURTEENTH DAY, Thursday, January 29, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

O God, wise and holy One, we pray for the people of these United States, and the people of the great state of Missouri. We pray for the elected and appointed officials who serve the people. As we stand in this place, let us feel Your hand moving and guiding us to do justice, to love mercy and to walk humbly with You throughout the hours of this day.

Help us to be more caring toward those we find it far easier to hate; help us to be more loving to those whom we regard as unlovable; and to extend our efforts for those we deem not worth the effort. If we are to learn anything in this life, let us learn love. And since we know we will be criticized, let it be for doing too much or too little, rather than for doing nothing.

Help us too, O God, to be discerning - not allowing ourselves to be swayed by untruths or misinformation. May we recognize when to speak out and when to stay silent - so that the words we DO speak are spoken with sincerity and honesty. In all things may we strive to be faithful - first and foremost to You, and then to the people whom we serve. Hear our prayer, O God, who is over and above, and in all things. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jordan Parshall, Emily Roberts, Gregory Tinkle and Molly Winkelman.

The Journal of the thirteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FIFTEENTH DAY, Monday, February 2, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Love bears all things...endures all things." (I Cor. 13:7).

Once again the silliness of Groundhog Day and Phil in Punxsutawney, Pa. is a reminder of the tradition of our ancestors who measured the year in forty day or six week periods with a religious ritual; today is half way between mid-winter and spring. We begin our work for February today, a month of honoring the heart.

We begin this week Eternal God before You who measures our days and hours with an infinite love and guides the changing of the seasons. Thank You for giving us this stopping place in the winter and for the overall mildness of its climate so far in Missouri. We continue to remember in prayer the suffering of those who have had severe weather in the Northeast and in Canada.

We give thanks to You for giving us a month to re-kindle romance and love as we honor Saint Valentine later. Guide our efforts in that area of our lives, mend relationships and heal memories where needed. Help us continue to take care of our physical hearts with proper diet and exercise as we thank You for the marvels of today's medicine and surgery which are keeping so many alive or adding to the quality of life. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

SIXTEENTH DAY, Tuesday, February 3, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Create a clean heart in me, O God." (Ps. 51:10)

A friend gave me a tape yesterday afternoon with some Barbra Streisand songs. As I reflected on yesterday's prayer theme for the House, a few of the lines struck me and I applied them to life in general in our society and in a particular way to race relations as we celebrate Black History Month in February, which is also the month of the heart.

Gracious God, this morning I echo Barbra's words, "protect our precious destiny... the time has come to be a family." How often these words are a deep cry from the human heart and are repeated in different ways in Your word to us through Your Holy Books and holy ones. Barbra also sings "take my heart to higher ground." We pray this day that these words would become a prayer that finds a place in our hearts as we seek to be taken into Yours, O God. Today's national news about the probable execution of a woman in Texas and the prospect of huge budget surpluses and a booming Dow Jones when more people are turning to food pantries for help are challenges to our moral sensibilities in this month of the heart. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ashton Klindt, Landan Klindt, Caleb Riekhof, Gabriel Riekhof, Summer Harvey, Allyn Harvey, Jacob Harvey and Samantha Alexander.

The Journal of the fifteenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

SEVENTEENTH DAY, Wednesday, February 4, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Once again we find ourselves face to face with the prospect of armed conflict. We mourn today the deaths of people killed in a tragic accident in the mountains of Italy, through the forces of nature in Florida, and at the hands of their fellow human beings around the world. We stand in the shadow of human frailties and failings. Forgive us the wrong that we do, individually and corporately.

Holy One, fortunately most of the battles we fight are ones of words and ideas. Help us see clearly the path that needs to be taken as these Representatives make decisions about the judicious use of the state's finances. Give them insight in establishing laws that will affect the youngest of Missouri's residents to the oldest. In all things, O God, give us all the courage to stand up for what we believe and the wisdom to know when what we believe may need to change.

Hear us and guide us, Keeper of heaven and earth. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

EIGHTEENTH DAY, Thursday, February 5, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

How do we set aside our own thoughts and concerns, O Lord, as we come in to our responsibilities in this place? The concerns of home, family and friends are never far from us. Help us, Gracious God, to focus on what lies in front of us, trusting You to take care of our concerns until we can once again return our attention to those dear to us.

In this place where we speak the language of the law, where we debate the issues of budget appropriations, amendments, and revisions, we often forget that what we do here affects not only our families, but families throughout this state. Guide us in what is done in this House so that all may be treated fairly. Direct us in choosing the wiser path rather than the quicker path. And most of all, reassure us of Your presence as we seek to do our jobs well and wisely.

May each one here enjoy the benefits of time spent at home during this coming weekend, and return them safely to this place with renewed energy and dedication. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Arian Jordan, Jonathan Slater, Lynn Dilworth and Jeremy Helm.

The Journal of the seventeenth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

NINETEENTH DAY, Monday, February 9, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"There will be...glory and honor and peace for every one who does good." (Rom. 2:10).

The Olympics are giving us some relief from the routine. We marvel at the years of hard work and total commitment that the athletes must invest and then one slip or tumble or slight fault knocks them out of the competition or deprives them of a medal.

Today gracious God, we pray for the re-dedication and re-commitment which all of us need in daily life. We do not always put out that one hundred percent effort. May we be inspired by those around us who give us good example. May we also learn from the mistakes and from the greater success of others who win despite our best efforts. We lift up in prayer those who are suffering from the severe weather in Florida and California in recent days and we pray for the reconciliation of the world community as it is affected by the weapons in Iraq. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Logan Sheat, Whitney Sheat and Jordan Sheat.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTIETH DAY, TUESDAY, February 10, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Your thunder resounded in the whirlwind; your lightning illumined the world, the earth quivered and quaked." (Ps. 77:19).

Every time the weather is severe, I am in awe of its power and sometimes afraid. It usually reflects on the insecurity I feel in a car and even in a secure home, we are so vulnerable to powers beyond our control. El Nino is ever present to remind us of how frail we are as we watch expensive homes in Malibu wash into the ocean.

Eternal God, today we know that we can explain and have some sense of power over the weather with Doppler radar and our understanding of science, but we still need to see Your ultimate authority at work. May it be one further reminder of the need to rely on You, and credit You with the source of all that is, and all that we have and surrender to Your marvelous ways even when we are confounded by Your majesty and suffer from the human condition. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kevin Baszis, John Herget, Vince Chandler, Cynthia Allmeyer, Lindsey Best, Jeffrey Schuepfer, Brett Kinsley, Holly Duncan, Alaina Jacobson, Matthew Resch, Jessica E. Cockrum, Ashley E. Gray, Courtney M. Sawhill, Kristen D. Noss, Serenity Stuart, Aleksandr Ivanov, Olga Sajhova, Julia Pimashkova, Stanislao Makfimov and Ali Roam.

WITHDRAWAL OF HOUSE BILLS

February 9, 1998

The Honorable Steve Gaw

Speaker, Missouri House of Representatives

State Capitol

Jefferson City, MO 65101

RE: HB 1285

Dear Mr. Speaker:

I am requesting to withdraw my bill, HB 1285 pending information regarding the appropriate penalties and enforcement. Thank you.

Sincerely,

/s/ Marilyn Edwards-Pavia

State Representative

District 105

February 9, 1998

Honorable Steve Gaw

House Post Office

Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Steve:

I recently learned about, obtained, and reviewed a ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court on a case involving another state's law which was similar to the provisions I have proposed in House Bill 1178. After reviewing the court's decision, which centered on issues of free speech, I believe it would be futile to work toward passing the bill. For that reason, would you please withdraw the bill from consideration.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

/s/ Norma Champion

ADJOURNMENT

On motion of Representative Crump, the House adjourned until 10:00 a.m., Wednesday, February 11, 1998.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, Wednesday, February 11, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"You know that while all the runners in the stadium take part in the race, the award goes to one." (1 Cor. 9:24).

Two stories from today's news: the movie, Titanic, got 14 Academy award nominations, this time last year the film itself was being written off as a sinking disaster because of its cost and delays. The other story is about how Olympic judges decide on the final score in the pairs figure skating competition - they watch the practices and they see more than, and judge by more than, what is seen in the actual final competition.

This morning, our hearts turn to you our God for those times in our lives when everything seems impossible and we are tempted to throw it in. The story of the Titanic's overwhelming success inspires us. Today, we can also learn from the Olympic judges and use that as a metaphor for You, our God. You look into our hearts, behind the scenes as it were, watching the practice and You do not judge by the externals or one isolated action in our lives. May we apply that same standard to others, having some compassion for their struggle, the unseen work behind the scenes in their lives. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Alex Ormsby, Danyel Nobles, Dane Batson, Christopher Brandt, Aaron Burge, Ryan Clodfelter, Blake Collins, James Gieselmann, Jr., James Guise, Jim Hartline, Warren Kearbey, Larry Leeds, Jr., Joe W. Marquis, Devin Myrick, Benjamin Nobles, Kenrick Nobles, D. Michael Priest, Chris Richardson, Jared Stark, D. Eric Ward, Chad White, Joseph Woodruff, Timmy Wymore and Crystal Leeds.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, Thursday, February 12, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Doyle Sager.

Our Father in Heaven, we ask You to bless this new day, and that You guide our thoughts and deeds into useful and honorable paths. We thank You for the privilege of serving You and others. Cause us to be good, careful stewards of our power and influence. Bless the deliberations of this assembly. Work through this process, that justice might be accomplished. Help each one of us to rise above the pettiness that would paralyze us and to rise above the lust for power that would make a mockery of the noble privilege of service. Instill in us wisdom and a sense of Your grace and goodness. And when the day is finished, may we be able to say that we have had a part in making Your world a better place.

In Your name we pray, Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-first day was approved as printed by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, Monday, February 16, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Take thought for what is noble in the sight of all." (Rom. 12;17).

It is President's day. The rain this morning put me in philosophic mood about the role of the presidency in the Republic. The office has ancient roots, the leader from our ancient memory is both God and king, priest and ruler, or represents the divine in the exercise of his office. In our culture, we speak of holding elected leaders to higher standards. What standards? What is higher? If we are all equal under the law, what is meant by higher standards? What is morality, what topics are included, which are more important? Can we separate private and public conduct? We realize that the answers to these questions are as diverse as the people who ask and answer them. It has become fashionable to trot out all the faults and weaknesses and moral failures and to air the gossip where there were no facts proven of every president since George Washington.

This afternoon, O God, we acknowledge that each of us falls far short of the glory that could be ours and we are all in a process. We honor and re-affirm our reverence for our system of government, we pray for our President and all of our leaders in government, including each of us in our own public and private exercise of the service to which we are committed and the promises we have made as civil servants and citizens. May we always strive for the best even when we know that our best is never going to be flawless. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jeff Wilson, Philip Thompson, Melody Hohensee and Rob Hohensee.

The Journal of the twenty-second day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, Tuesday, February 17, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Take thought for what is noble in the sight of all." (Rom. 12:17)

I watched a few minutes of the re-cap of some of the magnificent and some of the spills from the Olympics in the ski jump contests. Once again, I marveled at the beauty of the style, the risk to life and limb of the contestants and their marvelous endurance. They are focused. They have made decisions, they have decided that everything else in their lives is not important in their quest for excellence and the possibility of a medal.

God of patience, I thought of those things which I do well but then I realized that I cut corners on some projects, and I try to do some things without the commitment, without setting aside other less important things. Let me take a moment this morning to face up to one thing in my life which needs work, whether it is care about junk food in my diet or the need to nurture a relationship...Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Austin Dey, Elissa Dey, Laurel Dey, Bobby French, Steve Runnenburger, Garrett Gregory Stokan and Sersergei Voronov.

The Journal of the twenty-third day was approved as printed by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, Thursday, February 19, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"Integrity without knowledge is weak and useless, and knowledge without integrity is dangerous and dreadful." Samuel Johnson, Rassela (1759)

O God, Source of all knowing, help us to be seekers of knowledge and guide us to use that knowledge with integrity. So often we speak of things which we do not know, and know things of which we should not speak! Give us wisdom to be discerning in all that we do and say.

As we gather here today, may we be reminded of the examples of the great leaders of history...both in their failings and in their successes. Throughout history those who lead have often been from the racks of the common folk - those who saw a need and looked for a way to meet it; those who saw an injustice and looked for a way to right it. Inspire the representatives of this House to see with a new vision and to be open to new ideas so that they too will achieve the betterment of life for the citizens they serve.

Blessed are You, Adonai Our God, Sovereign of the Universe, who has given us life, sustained us, and helped us to reach this day. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Dustin Denny and Charity Denny.

The Journal of the twenty-fifth day was approved as printed.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTY-FIFTH DAY, Wednesday, February 18, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Creator God, we live in a world made imperfect by our human failings; made imperfect by the acts of mistrust and dishonesty; and yet we are aware of Your grace and most of all your merciful forgiveness.

When we act in pettiness, help us to rise above it and seek the more important issues. When we experience injustice, help us to stand against it and seek justice and equality. When we witness the indignity of suffering, help us seek ways to alleviate the cause rather than to bandage the symptoms.

Gracious God, these representatives are called upon to discern the best ways to deal with our human interaction in this state - and are called upon to look seriously at the plagues of drugs, crime, abuse, as well as the common every day issues of keeping business running as smoothly as possible. Give them insight and wisdom to look deeper than what may be initially visible; give them courage to dig to the core of truth; give them stamina to face each day's task. Most of all, reassure them of your presence.

In the depth of your understanding receive our prayers, spoken and unspoken, Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Wayne Laboube, Jamie Sisk and Josie Sisk.

The Journal of the twenty-fourth day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, Monday, February 23, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Vanity of vanities and all is vanity, all things are vanity says Qoheleth" (Eccles. 1:2-NAB)

I have been fascinated recently by the use of technology to create illusions, the best and latest example was the film Titanic, and last week there was a report of a television news set somewhere which creates the ultimate in illusions.

As the Christian world readies for the Lenten season on Wednesday, I pray this afternoon Eternal God for the gift of discernment which helps me cut through the illusions I create for myself and from those which abound in our culture. Give me a reality check, the wisdom to know that virtual reality is what I often live by and operate from. Take away the illusions, the false chasing after dreams and elusive ideas which are unworthy of my human dignity or may be destructive of other people's feelings or of more enduring values; hold me, gracious purifier of my soul, to the reality that comes from being in touch with my real self which is grounded in my relationship with You, who are beyond my senses and seem unreal sometimes but who is Reality itself and the cause of all that is. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-sixth day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, Wednesday, February 25, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

O Gracious One, in this season observed as holy by many, remind us that each day is holy as we are blessed in awakening to Your world. Let us always be mindful of the failings and sins that plague our human condition. Let us also be thankful for Your grace and forgiveness.

Today we are conscious as well, of the loss of life and property of our brothers and sisters in Florida. Be present to those who have suffered the devastating effects of tornados, floods and other natural disasters. Help them and reassure them of Your presence even in the midst of such loss.

Bless those in this House that they may feel Your guidance; that they may be inspired with wisdom and vision so that they may complete the tasks at hand with success, justice and righteousness.

O God, Sovereign of the universe, receive our prayers and hear us in Your infinite compassion. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Brian Heuring

The Journal of the twenty-eighth day was approved as corrected.

Of the six members appointed by the governor, three shall be citizens of the state of Missouri, who are not members of the plan, but who are familiar with medical issues. The remaining three members shall be members of the plan and may be selected from any state agency or any participating member agency, and one member shall be a member of the plan who shall be selected from any participating small employer.

2. Except for the legislative members, the director of the department of health, [the director of the department of insurance,] and the commissioner of the office of administration, trustees shall be chosen for terms of four years from the first day of January next following their election or appointment. Any vacancies occurring in the office of trustee shall be filled in the same manner the office was filled previously."

House Amendment No. 3

AMEND House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 1412, Section 103.080.7, by deleting said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

7. Small employers participating in the separate benefit trust account may, in accordance with the procedures of either subdivision of this subsection, form a health plan separate from the Missouri consolidated health care plan (MCHCP), such separate plan to be established and maintained as a not for profit corporation for the mutual benefit of the participating small employers, with the same authority to operate such separate plan as the board has over the MCHCP, provided however that such not for profit corporation shall not be considered an agency or political subdivision of the state and shall not have authority to directly insure or self-insure. The procedures to form such separate plan shall be in accordance with either of the following subdivisions:

(1) If the number of persons whose coverage is provided through the separate benefit trust fund account for small employers on January first of any year equals or exceeds the number of persons who coverage is provided directly or indirectly through the state or participating member agencies on August 18, 1998, the board shall schedule a vote of the participating small employers. The board may determine the time and manner of such vote, but the board shall begin such vote no sooner than upon thirty days' notice to the participating small employers and conclude such vote no later than the end of the year such January first occurs. The vote shall be held on the question of whether such small employers shall discontinue participating in the plan and instead form a plan of their own, separate in all respects from the Missouri consolidated health care plan (MCHCP). If a majority of the whole number of such small employers vote in the affirmative, then the next calendar and plan year shall be considered a transition year. During the transition year, the MCHCP shall hold a vote of the participating small employers for the initial board of directors of such separate plan and thereafter, together with such initial board, shall make all arrangements necessary and proper for the transfer to such separate plan of all rights, duties, privileges, authority, assets, liabilities, surplus, books, records and accounts formerly possessed by the board with respect to participating small employers. After such transition year, such small employers shall then maintain such separate plan.

(2) Upon the petition of the majority of the whole number of participating small employers during any one plan year, then the next calendar and plan year shall be considered a transition year. During the transition year, the MCHCP shall hold a vote of the participating small employers for the initial board of directors of such separate plan and thereafter, together with such initial board, shall make all arrangements necessary and proper for the transfer to such separate plan of all rights, duties, privileges, authority, assets, liabilities, surplus, books, records and accounts formerly possessed by the board with respect to participating small employers. After such transition year, such small employers shall then maintain such separate plan.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTIETH DAY, Thursday, February 26, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Lord, in these few moments of stillness, You call us to prayer and You offer Yourself to all who seek You. Even as the cold weather again encroaches on the premature warmth of the last few days, we ask You to deliver us from coldness of heart, from wandering minds, and from misdirected intentions. By Your power place within us a steadfast love and devotion for all Your people, and help what we do here be meaningful and worthwhile.

God, in this time of reflection, forgive us the hatred that divides nation from nation, race from race and class from class; forgive us our indifference to the plight of the homeless and the refugee; forgive us the pride which leads us to trust in ourselves and not in You.* Deliver us from evil, and bring us to a healthy and wiser relationship with You and with our brothers and sisters. Hear our prayers; guide our ways; and direct our actions, O God who is above and below and in all. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Matt Frierdich, Audra Phillips, Valerie Kirksey and Matt Zahnweh.

The Journal of the twenty-ninth day was approved as printed.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTY-FIRST DAY, Monday, March 2, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

Since we will be away for spring break, I want to offer an Irish blessing this afternoon. May it cheer our hearts on this wintry day in Missouri. Ireland provided the first Governor of the Spanish Territory in 1762 in what is now Missouri, Allesandro O'Reilly, as a result of the exile of his ancestor, one of Ireland's leaders, from their own nation in 1607 and many went to Spain, Portugal and France. The first State Manual was printed at his own expense by Irish-born Secretary of State, Michael McGrath in 1878 and we just sent Jimmy Kirkpatrick on home to heaven where he is now re-painting all the gold with his bright green. Jimmy always liked Irish blessings.

"May there always be work for your hands to do

May your purse always hold a coin or two

May the sun always shine

On your windowpane

May a rainbow be certain to follow each rain

May the hand of a friend

Always be near you

May God fill your heart

With gladness to cheer you." (Irish Blessings Greenwich House NY).

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Haley Brewster, Kelsey Brewster, Brinks Brewster and Molly Brewster.

The Journal of the thirtieth day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, tuesday, March 3, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

O God, in this age of modern technology and space age travel, let us not forget to recognize the simplicity of life as we see it in a small flower peeking through a dusting of snow, or as we hear it in a small child's question. Your world bursts around us in such magnificent form that it can take us by surprise from one day to the next.

Here in the House we often lose track of the world outside - and yet the work done in this room impacts the outside world in a multitude of ways - whether it's in the regulating of Internet web sites or the involvement of parents in the education of special children. Guide these representatives to a clearer understanding of the issues involved not letting them forget that issues must take second place to the needs of the people with faces and names and feelings. Give them the courage to do what will help and not hurt. Help them focus their time and energy on the important and set aside the trivial.

Most of all, O God of Life, give them assurance - the peace of knowing that You are present in their lives. In all of live, blessed are You, O Sovereign God, ruler of the universe. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Justin Horner, Jessica Reese, Blake Robinson, Katie West, Jesse Hodgson, Andy Mackley, Livia Mackley and Betsy Baxter.

The Journal of the thirty-first day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, Wednesday, March 4, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Only $24.99; only $19.95 - credit cards, debit cards - the issue of money assails from every direction, O Lord, and the heck of it is, it's a necessity of our lives in this modern age, something we never seem to have enough of, owe too much of, or are hunting for ways to protect the amount we DO have. Help us see clearly, God, so that money may be seen as something to bring about good: to relieve homelessness and hunger, to provide educational and health opportunities to all men, women and children, to secure the well-being of infants and children. Don't let us make money our god in Your place, O Holy One.

These representatives have been entrusted with tremendous amounts of money - thousands and millions of dollars that all of us have worked hard for - and it's a big responsibility to see that the money is spent wisely and judiciously. Help them to make the decisions they make based on Your guidance and their own good conscience, so that the stewardship of what they have been given - money, time, decision-making - will all be done in the spirit and the law of love. O God of creation, we seek Your presence in this place and with those who labor here each day. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Alex Denning, Vicky Robinson, Christopher Kennaley, Katie Kennaley and Kimberly Kennaley.

The Journal of the thirty-second day was approved as corrected.

All public entities in Missouri shall have the option of participating in the fund and making annual contributions to the fund in the amount determined by the board in accordance with the provisions of section 379.470, RSMo, relating to rates established by insurers. Participation in the fund has the same effect as purchase of insurance by the public entity, as otherwise provided by law, and shall have the same effect as a self-insurance plan adopted by the governing body of any political subdivision of the state. Moneys in the fund shall be available for:

(1) The payment and settlement of all claims for which coverage has been obtained by any public entity in accordance with coverages offered by the board;

(2) The payment and settlement of tort claims against any officer or employee of a participating public entity for which coverage has been obtained by any public entity in accordance with coverages offered by the board when the claim is upon conduct of such officer or employee arising out of and performed in connection with his or her official duties on behalf of the participating public entity;

(3) Attorney's fees and expenses incurred in the settlement and defense of such entities and persons for claims specified in this subsection.

2. No amount in excess of the amount specified by section 537.756 shall be paid from the fund for the payment and settlement of claims arising out of any single occurrence.

3. The board of trustees of the fund will negotiate the settlement of and provide the defense of any claim for which coverage has been obtained by any public entity in accordance with coverages offered by the board. The board of trustees of the fund shall make the final determination on the settlement of any claim, or any portion of any claim, which requires payment from the fund. For any year in which any public entity does not make a yearly contribution to the fund, the board of trustees of the fund shall not be responsible, in any way, for negotiating the settlement of any claim arising from an occurrence in that year, providing any defense of any claim arising from an occurrence in that year, making any payment on any claim arising from an occurrence in that year, or making any payment on any judgment on any claim arising from an occurrence in that year. Any public entity which discontinues its participation in the fund may not resume participation for a period of three years from the date it discontinues participation.

4. All staff for the Missouri public entity risk management fund shall be provided by the office of administration except as otherwise specifically determined by the board. The fund shall reimburse the office of administration for all costs of providing staff required by this subsection. Such reimbursement shall be made on an annual basis, pursuant to contract negotiated between the fund and the office of administration. As established in section 537.700, the Missouri public entity risk management fund is a body corporate and politic, and the state of Missouri shall not be liable in any way with respect to claims made against the fund or against entities or individuals covered by the fund, nor with respect to any expense of operation of the fund. Money in the fund is not state money nor is it money collected or received by the state.

5. Each participating public entity shall notify the board of trustees of the fund within seven working days of the time notice is received that a claim from an occurrence has been made against the entity, or one of its officers or employees. The public entity shall supply information to the board of trustees of the fund concerning any claim upon request. It shall also notify the board of trustees of the fund upon the closing of any claim.

6. The board may contract with independent insurance agents, authorizing such agents to accept contributions to the fund from public entities on behalf of the board upon such terms and conditions as the board deems necessary, and may provide a reasonable method of compensating such agents."; and

2. The limitation on awards for liability provided for in this section shall be increased or decreased on a yearly basis effective January first of each year in accordance with the Implicit Price Deflator for Personal Consumption Expenditures as published by the Bureau of Economic Analysis of the United States Department of Commerce or its successor. The current value of the limitation shall be calculated by the director of the department of insurance, who shall furnish that current value to the secretary of state, who shall publish that current value in the Missouri Register as soon after each January first as practicable, but it shall otherwise be exempt from the provisions of section 536.021, RSMo.

Such sovereign or governmental tort immunity as existed at common law in this state prior to September 12, 1977, except to the extent waived, abrogated or modified by statutes in effect prior to that date, shall remain in full force and effect; except that, the immunity of the public entity from liability and suit for compensatory damages for negligent acts or omissions is hereby expressly waived in the following instances:

(1) Injuries directly resulting from the negligent acts or omissions by public employees arising out of the operation of motor vehicles or motorized vehicles within the course of their employment;

(2) Injuries caused by the condition of a public entity's property if the plaintiff establishes that the property was in dangerous condition at the time of the injury, that the injury directly resulted from the dangerous condition, that the dangerous condition created a reasonably foreseeable risk of harm of the kind of injury which was incurred, and that either a negligent or wrongful act or omission of an employee of the public entity within the course of his employment created the dangerous condition or a public entity had actual or constructive notice of the dangerous condition in sufficient time prior to the injury to have taken measures to protect against the dangerous condition. In any action under this subdivision wherein a plaintiff alleges that he was damaged by the negligent, defective or dangerous design of a highway or road, [which was designed and constructed prior to September 12, 1977,] the public entity shall be entitled to a defense which shall be a complete bar to recovery whenever the [public entity can prove by a preponderance of the evidence that the alleged negligent, defective, or dangerous] design reasonably complied with highway and road design standards generally accepted at the time the road or highway was designed and constructed.

2. The express waiver of sovereign immunity in the instances specified in subdivisions (1) and (2) of subsection 1 of this section are absolute waivers of sovereign immunity in all cases within such situations whether or not the public entity was functioning in a governmental or proprietary capacity and whether or not the public entity is covered by a liability insurance for tort.

3. The term "public entity" as used in this section shall include any multi-state compact agency created by a compact formed between this state and any other state which has been approved by the Congress of the United States. Sovereign immunity, if any, is waived for the proprietary functions of such multi-state compact agencies as of the date that the Congress of the United States approved any such multi-state compact.

4. Pursuant to the prerogative of the general assembly to declare the public policy of the state in matters concerning liability in tort for public entities, the general assembly declares that prior to September 12, 1977, there was no sovereign or governmental immunity for the proprietary functions of multi-state compact agencies operating pursuant to the provisions of sections 70.370 to 70.440, RSMo, and 238.030 to 238.110, RSMo, including functions such as the operation of motor vehicles and the maintenance of property, involved in the operation of a public transit or public transportation system, and that policy is hereby reaffirmed and declared to remain in effect.

5. Any court decision dated subsequent to August 13, 1978, holding to the contrary of subsection 4 of this section erroneously interprets the law and the public policy of this state, and any claimant alleging tort liability under such circumstances for an occurrence within five years prior to February 17, 1988, shall in addition to the time allowed by the applicable statutes of limitation or limitation of appeal, have up to one year after July 14, 1989, to file or refile an action against such public entity and may recover damages imposed by the common law of this state as for any other person alleged to have caused similar damages under similar circumstances.".

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, Thursday, March 5, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

As we draw this week to a close, O God, let us look back with a sense of accomplishment for the things done well and correctly. Let us look back on this week and release to experience the things that were done poorly or incorrectly, recognizing that we bring many expectations to the work we do. Help us examine each day's work with the understanding that not all of our expectations are going to be met. Let us accept responsibility for those expectations, the realistic and unrealistic ones.

God, You give us life a moment at a time, and yet we live it as if we were going to live forever. Give us insight into our minutes and hours, days and weeks so that we use them wisely.

Take us all through this weekend safely - give us time to rest our bodies and our minds; give us family time and friend time; give us alone time and together time; and be with us with each beat of our hearts as we live in Your love.

In our prayers, O God, those both spoken and unspoken, let us be always mindful before whom we stand. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Erin Warner, Julie Weik, Kevin Murphy, Craig Hermann, Trip Sternberg, Kristina Weger, Derrick Christian, Jessielyn Eulalia, Ksenya Nicolaievna Lepeshko, Ali Raye Caldwell, Kyle Short, Rachel Caldwell, Dustin Schmidt, Trevor Horner, Tony Wheeler, Jr., Trista Berry, Jodi Gold, Sarah Jeffries, Jennifer Camp, Kerri Albricht, Hank Yoakum, Jerry Baker, Matthew Warner, Tara Tindle, Britney Inman, Baktigul Kurmanbekovna Turdubekova, Ekaterina Ryazantseva, Maxim Kunakhovich, Matthew Andrews, Parker Anderson, Dustina Orr, Stephanie Gold and Camille Segard.

House Resolution No. 117

WHEREAS, the state of Missouri's higher education system is one of the finest in the nation; and

WHEREAS, a major reason for the system's excellence is the diverse number of public and private institutions that offer associate, bachelor, master, and Ph.D. degrees; and

WHEREAS, a significant number of students earn higher education credits at more than one college or university throughout their academic careers; and

WHEREAS, many students have experienced frustration when transferring from one college or university to another because the credits earned for classes already taken are not accepted at their new institutions; and

WHEREAS, it is also an economic burden on the students and their families when students are forced to pay tuition and fees to re-take classes they have already passed, especially with the increasingly high cost of higher education; and

WHEREAS, this frustration is especially high among students who wish to transfer from community colleges to four-year higher educational institutions, despite the fact that community colleges are the state's gateway to education and play an essential part in Missouri's higher education system; and

WHEREAS, some members of the General Assembly have been contacted by their constituents because of their frustration with the current manner in which transfers between institutions are being handled; and

WHEREAS, it is neither the duty nor desire of the Missouri Legislature to dictate which classes will be accepted for transfer by each institution of higher education; and

WHEREAS, it is acknowledged that the various departments of the state's colleges and universities must have academic freedom, flexibility and independence to flourish; and

WHEREAS, the Coordinating Board for Higher Education is required by state law to establish guidelines to promote and facilitate the transfer of students between institutions of higher education within the state:

NOW,THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Eighty-ninth General Assembly, hereby request the following:

1. That the Coordinating Board for Higher Education's Transfer-Articulation Committee, along with the assistance of any interested organizations or committees from any of the state's colleges and universities, update the 1987 Guidelines for Student Transfer and Articulation Among Missouri Colleges and Universities to more accurately reflect the needs of today's students.

2. That the chief administrators (presidents and chancellors) at each college or university encourage their academic deans, faculty chairpersons, and other appropriate decision makers to take an active role in improving the current transfer-articulation agreement and require accountability from these same co-workers.

3. That the presidents and chancellors should also make an improved transfer policy a top priority in actions, not just words, and encourage the elimination of any vestige of academic arrogance that one institution may have toward another.

4. That a special emphasis should be placed on improving transfer agreements between institutions in close geographic proximity to each other since a significant number of transfers take place between such institutions.

5. That the state's universities and colleges should not only improve their communications with each other, but also with their own students. Academic advisory programs should be reformed so that students know beforehand whether a class will transfer from one institution to another and whether that class will apply to their major or will transfer as an elective.

6. That the Commissioner of Higher Education and representatives of the community colleges and four-year institutions should report back to the House Committee on Higher Education before April 27, 1998, so that the members of the Missouri Legislature can be updated on the progress that has been made on this important issue.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, Monday, March 9, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Our days on earth are a shadow." (Job 7:6)

I had a renewed appreciation for those of you who commute here every week when I drove in from St. Louis this morning - good old Missouri and its weather surprises.

I listened to parts of several programs on different radio stations and some news programs. I was amazed at the diversity of concerns that people have, and the variety of issues facing us as a nation and state, including one talk show involving a state senator as the guest.

Gracious God, our hearts go out once again to those most affected by the weather conditions here and in other states. As we go about our work in this week before the spring break, we pause once again in this prayer for the guidance that we need, and the awareness of the variety of issues facing us in this Assembly and the diversity of views we must deal with. May your certain guidance and constancy be a firm support as we deal with them. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Anthony Fauska, Kent Fauska and Sarah Fauska.

The Journal of the thirty-fourth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, Tuesday, March 10, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"The words of (our) lips are deep waters, but the source of wisdom is a flowing brook...the fool's mouth is his ruin, his lips area snare to his life." (Prov. 18: 4-7)

Today is the 122nd anniversary of the invention of the telephone. We marvel at the advances which have been made since then and the uses which have been made of that medium.

This morning gracious God, we rejoice in the gift of the telephone and its many uses today as well as the extension of the technology which allows us to communicate in ways that are as marvelous for us as the telephone was one hundred years ago.

We thank You for the kind words, the beautiful speech which we have enjoyed, thanks to the telephone. We ask forgiveness for the words which hurt or destroyed. We are fearful of the use of the telephone which leads to abuses of power and is used for crime. We sometimes wonder if our conversations are as private as we want them to be. We also remember that two thirds of the people of the world have never used a telephone so we are mindful of the obligations to use our advanced technology and resources in loving service for others as we also remind ourselves that advanced technology is not the same as advanced civilization. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Travis Kennedy, Amber Whited, Julie Belnap, Mindy Cissell, Niral Patel, T.J. Mouser, Tony Cusumano, Brett Webb, Mallory Gittemeier, Joseph D. Quinn III, Joseph Colbert, Julie Moss, Bob Blankenship and Bill Gepford.

The Journal of the thirty-fifth day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY, Wednesday, March 11, 1998

Representative Parker in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Let us pause for these few moments, O God, and reflect - reflect on the things that have made our lives better: the opportunities to receive an education from good teachers, the medical advancements that help us live healthier lives, the opportunities to worship in the tradition of our choice...so many things for which to give thanks.

And yet, in the midst of our blessings, we also recognize that we struggle - we struggle with illness; with the inability to prevent the death of one we love; the injustices that we perpetrate on one another through violence, prejudices, ignorance. We struggle, O God, and ask Your guidance.

Even as these here in this place work each day to better the lives of Missouri's citizens, give them the wisdom to know which battles to fight and which to concede. Give them courage to tackle the tough issues. Give them resolve that in whatever decision they make, Your law of love will be uppermost in the process of making that decision. And grant them the assurance of Your presence. Blessed are You, O God, Creator and Sustainer of the Universe. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Mark Ellington, Lindsey Zimmerschied, Sarah Schnakenberg, Luke Mahnken, Emily Pritchard, Erin Matteson, Nathan Haslag, Michael Crocker and Braxton Parker.

The Journal of the thirty-sixth day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY, Thursday, March 12, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Gracious God, we know that you are concerned about billions of your creatures all over the earth, even the sparrow who falls to the ground, as if each one were the only one. In that infinite concern, you can certainly understand how hard it is for these Representatives to keep in mind the thousands of their fellow citizens for whom they must legislate. You know the clamor of voices in their ears, the constant tugging at their sleeves, forever trying to influence them and their decisions; the small voices of the little persons without money or names; the blatant voices of aggressive pressure groups; the big voices of selfish interests; the whispering inner voices of personal ambition; the insinuating voices holding out the lure of unmerited reward.

In the clamor and noise of all the voices, give these men and women the willingness to take the time to listen to YOUR voice, knowing that if they follow the still small voice within, all of your people will be served fairly, and all will receive what they deserve.

Be now with all those who, even as they work today, are thinking about loved ones with illness or in grief; reassure them of your presence here with them and with those they love.

Take us into this spring break with an opportunity to rest and spend time with family and friends. Hear our prayers, O Lord of us all. Amen.

*Portions adapted from a prayer given by the Chaplain, The Rev. Peter Marshall, D.D., at the opening of the March 24, 1947 session of the Senate of the United States.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sasha Ball, Laura Koetting, Amanda Bunn, Ryan Mayfield, Evan Wright, Tyler Wengert, Kelli Guilliams, Sarah McDonald, Skyler McDonald, Todd Eppoh, Gabrielle Stolwyk, Scott Kelling, Kyle Luke, Molly Burton, Rachel Evans, Sarah Evans, Harold Evans, Michael Davis, Lauren Gossage, Daniel Miller and Shannon Mulcahy.

The Journal of the thirty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTIETH DAY, Monday, March 23, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"O Lord...You are our potter; we are all the work of Your hands." (Is. 64:7).

This is a special beginning for us as it always has been, the return from spring break, refreshed with family time, getting caught up on some work, and perhaps a vacation away from home.

Gracious God, we also acknowledge the mixed blessing of having received so much advice from constituents and family and friends about the issues facing us. There are so many issues, so much advice, so much that is so important for the leadership we provide as custodians of the moral heritage of the State as expressed through its government as well as the day-to-day operation of government.

Once more, Eternal God, we ask for the gifts we need to anchor our votes and deliberations on the best wisdom of the ages, so that we make the best decisions for our time. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Zachary McLuckie and Kramer McLuckie.

The Journal of the thirty-eighth day was approved as corrected.

The Journal of the thirty-ninth day was approved as printed.

"370.083. 1. Any credit union with total assets of one hundred million dollars or more as of its last report of condition is subject to the following:

(1) Such credit union shall not add new groups or geographic areas to its membership other than those that were included on March 1, 1998, or on the date the credit union first had total assets of one hundred million dollars, whichever is later; or

(2) Such credit union may convert to a state savings bank provided in section 370.084.

2. Nothing in this section shall prohibit any credit union from converting to any other type of depository institution.

370.084. 1. Any credit union or federal credit union may be converted into a savings bank pursuant to the laws of the state of Missouri. Such savings bank shall be located in the city or town in which the converting credit union or federal credit union is located. Such credit union may, alone, or with one or more other credit unions or federal credit unions, be consolidated or merged with one or more savings banks under the charter of a savings bank, upon compliance with applicable federal laws and upon obtaining the approval of the director.

2. Upon a majority of the board of directors of a federal credit union certifying to the director that federal law relating to the conversion, consolidation or merger has been complied with, the majority of the board may complete the conversion, consolidation or merger on the part of the federal credit union. The rights, if any, of the dissenting members of the federal credit union shall be determined pursuant to federal law.

3. In the case of conversion, the majority of the board of directors of the credit union or federal credit union shall proceed as is provided by law for other individuals in incorporating a savings bank pursuant to the laws of this state except that the articles of agreement:

(1) May provide that instead of the membership shares having been paid up in money it is to be paid up in assets of the converting credit union or federal credit union, the net value of which is equal to at least the full amount of the capital of the proposed resulting savings bank;

(2) Shall provide that the proposed resulting savings bank is and shall be considered the same business and corporate entity as, and a continuation of the corporate entity and identity of the converting credit union or federal credit union although as to rights, powers and duties the proposed resulting institution is a savings bank incorporated pursuant to the laws of the state of Missouri;

(3) Shall set out the names and addresses of all persons who are to be officers of the proposed savings bank; and

(4) May provide that the resulting savings bank is a mutual association and is owned by the members as membership shares.

Notwithstanding any other provision of law, such mutual savings bank may elect that ownership of such mutual savings bank continues in the members and no member has more than one vote in any action such member is required to vote on.

4. If the director, as the result of an examination and investigation made of the converting credit union or federal credit union by the director, the director's deputies or the director's examiners, is satisfied that such assets are of such value and that the character, responsibility and general fitness of the persons named in the articles of agreement are such as to command confidence and warrant belief that the business of the proposed corporation will be honestly and efficiently conducted in accordance with the purpose and intent of the laws of this state relative to savings banks, the director shall grant the charter. If the director is not satisfied as to either or both matters, the director shall immediately give notice thereof to the majority of the board of directors of the converting credit union or federal credit union who shall have the same right of appeal as is provided by the laws of this state in the case of the proposed incorporators of a new savings bank.

5. Upon the approval of the particular conversion being granted the director shall execute and deliver to the majority of the board of directors of the converting credit union or federal credit union the director's certificate setting forth that the savings bank named in the certificate has been duly organized and is the institution resulting from the conversion of the credit union or federal credit union into the resulting savings bank, and that the resulting savings bank is and shall be considered the same business and corporate entity as, and a continuation of the corporate entity and identity of, the converting credit union or federal credit union. The certificate shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county or city in which the resulting savings bank is located and the recorded certificate, or certified copies of such certificate, shall be accepted in all courts of this state as evidence of the conversion of the credit union or federal credit union into the resulting savings bank and that the resulting savings bank is the same business and corporate entity as, and a continuation of the corporate entity and identity of the converting association or federal association.

6. When the director of finance has given the director's certificate as provided in subsection 5 of this section:

(1) The resulting savings bank and all its stockholders or members, directors, officers and employees shall have the same powers and privileges and be subject to the same duties and liabilities in all respect as in the case of such an institution had it originally organized as a savings bank pursuant to the laws of this state; and

(2) All the rights, franchises and interests of the converting credit union or federal credit union in and to every species of property, real, personal and mixed, and choses in action belonging to such credit union shall be deemed to be transferred to and vested in the resulting savings bank without any deed or other transfer.

7. In the case of consolidation or merger, the same shall be consummated by each federal credit union complying with federal laws relating to such federal credit union and also by each credit union or federal credit union and each savings bank complying with the provisions of the laws of this state relating to the consolidation or merger of banks. The rights of dissenting members of each federal credit union shall be determined pursuant to the laws of this state or the United States, as applicable, and the rights of the dissenting members of each savings bank shall be determined as provided by the laws of this state in the case of consolidation or merger of banks. In the case of the consolidation or merger the resulting savings shall be and shall be considered the same business and corporate entity as, and a continuation of the corporate entity and identity of, each credit union or federal credit union and each savings bank which is a party to the consolidation or merger. The provisions of sections 362.610 to 362.810, RSMo, shall apply in the case of any such consolidation or merger even though one or more of the parties is a credit union or federal credit union or a savings bank instead of a bank as though each party to the consolidation or merger was a bank incorporated pursuant to the laws of the state of Missouri.".

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-FIRST DAY, Tuesday, March 24, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"May I be rescued...from the watery depths." (Ps. 69:15).

It is the morning after the Academy Awards' Oscar night. Dominating the night was the film Titanic, which almost did not get to the screen in the first place because of production difficulties and somehow captured the imagination of so many people. The romantic story is what reviewers focus on, however, it is also a story of the rest of our human experience, arrogance, attempts at class distinction, greed and abuse of power.

Eternal God, we see the Titanic a metaphor for life - technology which could not overcome the power of nature and its own inherent limits, our craven human nature which grovels in pride and greed which destroy and prey on others who are different. Shining through was a fantasy about human love and a special piece of jewelry. May lasting values, and especially the "pearl of great price", Your love for us, God of Love, guide us through the swirling flood of our daily lives.

Meantime, gracious God, it is back to reality for us and let us make the effort to make the rest of this session "As Good As It Gets," with apologies to last night's other movie. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

hundred dollars beginning with March 25, 1968.]

86.440. Any member who retires after August 28, 1998, who is entitled to a pension benefit pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.370 to 86.497 and who either has at least twenty-five years of creditable service or is retired as a result of an accident or illness occurring in the line of duty or course of employment pursuant to section 86.450, shall receive a pension benefit which, when added to any supplemental retirement benefits paid such member by this retirement system and any cost-of-living adjustments to amounts otherwise payable by this system, shall be not less than six hundred dollars monthly. Any member who retired on or before August 28, 1998, who is entitled to a pension benefit pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.370 to 86.497 and who either had at least twenty-five years of creditable service or was retired as a result of an accident or illness occurring in the line of duty or course of employment pursuant to section 86.450, shall upon application to the retirement board be appointed by the retirement board as a special consultant on the problems of retirement, aging and other matters, and upon request of the retirement board shall give opinions and be available to give opinions in writing or orally in response to such requests, as may be required. For such services the member shall, beginning the later of August 28, 1998, or the time of such appointment pursuant to this section, be compensated in such amount as shall make the aggregate benefits received by such member from this retirement system, including cost-of-living adjustments and supplemental retirement benefits provided by this system, together with compensation paid pursuant to this section, equal to not less than six hundred dollars monthly.

86.441. 1. Any member who retires on a pension subsequent to August 13, 1972, may receive each year, beginning January 1, 1972, in addition to [his] such member's base pension, a cost-of-living adjustment in an amount not to exceed three percent of [his] such member's base pension during any one year provided that the retirement pension system shall remain actuarially sound.

2. Any member who was retired on August 13, 1972, may receive each year, beginning January 1, 1986, in addition to [his] such member's base pension, a cost-of-living adjustment in an amount not to exceed three percent of [his] such member's base pension during any one year, provided that the retirement pension system shall remain actuarially sound.

3. If a member who has been retired and receiving a pension dies after September 28, 1987, the surviving spouse or children of such member entitled to receive a base pension pursuant to section 86.447 shall also receive a percentage cost-of-living adjustment to their respective base pension equal to the total percentage cost-of-living adjustments received during [his] such member's lifetime pursuant to this section.

4. The cost-of-living adjustment shall be an increase or decrease computed on the base pension amount by using the consumer price index to determine the percentage of increase or decrease; but in no event shall the adjustment reduce the pension to an amount less than the base pension. The retirement board shall utilize the consumer price index for urban wage earners and clerical workers for Kansas City, Missouri, published by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, United States Department of Labor, in determining the percentage increment for such cost-of-living adjustment or, in the event such index is or becomes unavailable, the retirement board may select such other index as it in its discretion determines to be satisfactory.

5. In determining and granting the cost-of-living adjustments, the retirement board shall adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section including provisions for the manner of computation of such adjustments and the effective dates thereof. The retirement board shall provide for such adjustments to be determined once each year and granted on a date or dates to be chosen by the board and may apply such adjustments in full to members who have retired during the year prior to such adjustments but who have not been retired for one full year and to the surviving spouse or children of a member who has died during the year prior to such adjustments.

6. As used in this cost-of-living adjustment section, the term "base pension" shall mean, when used in connection with a member, the pension computed under the provisions of the law as of the date of retirement of the member without regard to cost-of-living adjustment and, when used in connection with a surviving spouse or children of a member, the pension computed under the provisions of the law as of the date of death of the member without regard to cost-of-living adjustment except as provided in section 86.447. For the purposes of subsections 1 and 2 of this section, the term "member" shall include a surviving spouse entitled to pension benefits from this retirement system who has not remarried and any children of the member who are entitled to receive part or all of the pension which would be received by a surviving spouse who had not remarried or died.

7. The determination of whether the retirement pension system will remain actuarially sound shall be made at the time any cost-of-living adjustment is granted. If at any time the retirement pension system becomes actuarially unsound, pension payments shall continue as adjusted by increases theretofore granted. A member of the retirement board shall have no personal liability for granting increases under this section if that retirement board member in good faith relied and acted upon advice of a qualified actuary that the retirement pension system would remain actuarially sound.

86.447. 1. Upon receipt of the proper proofs of death of a member in service for any reason whatever or of the death of a member after having been retired and pensioned, there shall be paid, in addition to all other benefits, the following:

(2) If a member retires or terminates service after August 28, 1998, and dies after commencement of benefits pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.370 to 86.497, the member's surviving spouse, if any, shall be paid a base pension equal to eighty percent of the pension being received by such member, including cost-of-living adjustments to such pension but excluding supplemental retirement benefits, at the time of such member's death, subject to subsequent adjustments, if any, as provided in section 86.441;

For such services, the surviving spouse shall, beginning the later of August 28, 1998, or the time of such appointment pursuant to this subsection, be compensated in such amount as shall make the benefits received by such surviving spouse pursuant to this subsection equal to eighty percent of the pension being received by such member, including cost-of-living adjustments to such pension but excluding supplemental retirement benefits, at the time of such member's death, subject to subsequent adjustments, if any, as provided in section 86.441;

(4) For any member who dies after August 28, 1998, and who either had at least twenty-five years of creditable service or was retired as a result of an accident or illness occurring in the line of duty or course of employment pursuant to section 86.450, the surviving spouse's benefit provided pursuant to this subsection, when added to any supplemental retirement benefits paid such surviving spouse by this retirement system and any cost-of-living adjustments to amounts otherwise payable by the retirement system, shall not be less than six hundred dollars per month. For any member who dies on or before August 28, 1998, and who either had at least twenty-five years of creditable service or was retired as a result of an accident or illness occurring in the line of duty or course of employment pursuant to section 86.450, the surviving spouse shall upon application to the retirement board be appointed by the retirement board as a special consultant on the problems of retirement, aging and other matters, and upon request of the retirement board shall give opinions and be available to give opinions in writing or orally in response to such requests, as may be required. For such services the surviving spouse shall, beginning the later of August 28, 1998, or the time the appointment is made pursuant to this subsection, be compensated in such amount as shall make the aggregate benefits received by such surviving spouse from this retirement system, including cost-of-living adjustments and supplemental retirement benefits provided by this system, together with compensation paid pursuant to this section, equal to not less than six hundred dollars per month;

[(2) To his] (5) Such member's child or children under the age of eighteen years at the time of the member's decease, shall be paid fifty dollars per month each, subject to adjustment, if any, as provided in section 86.441, until he or she shall attain the age of eighteen years; however, each such child who is or becomes a full-time student at an accredited educational institution shall continue to receive payments hereunder for so long as such child shall remain such a full-time student or shall be in a summer or other vacation period scheduled by the institution with intent by such child, demonstrated to the satisfaction of the retirement board, to return to such full-time student status upon the resumption of the institution's classes following such vacation period, but in no event shall such payments be continued after such child shall attain the age of twenty-one years except as hereinafter provided. Any child eighteen years of age or older, who is physically or mentally incapacitated from wage earning, so long as such incapacity exists as certified by a member of the medical board, shall be entitled to the same benefits as a child under the age of eighteen;

[(3)] (6) A funeral benefit of one thousand dollars.

2. For purposes of this section, commencement of benefits shall begin, for any benefit, at such time as all requirements have been met entitling the member to a payment of such benefit at the next following payment date, disregarding advance notice periods required by any paying agent for physical preparation of the payment, so that a member who dies between the date all such requirements are met and the date when the system would have delivered such member's initial payment shall be deemed to have commenced such benefit.

[2.] 3. If there is no person qualified to receive a pension as a surviving spouse or if a surviving spouse remarries or dies, the total amount which would be received by a qualified surviving spouse or which is being received by the surviving spouse at the date of the remarriage or death of such surviving spouse shall be added to the amounts received by and shall be divided among the children under the age of eighteen years and the incapacitated children in equal shares. As each child attains the age of eighteen years or has his incapacity removed, the total of the surviving spouse's pension shall then be added to and divided among the remaining children, and when there is only one child under the age of eighteen years or incapacitated, whether such child is the sole surviving child of the member or the youngest child of several children, the total amount of the surviving spouse's pension shall be paid to the child until he reaches the age of eighteen years or his incapacity is removed.

[3.] 4. No surviving spouse shall be entitled to receive any benefits [or the payment of a pension under] pursuant to this section unless such spouse was married to the member at the time of the member's retirement. All benefits provided pursuant to this section for an eligible surviving spouse shall terminate upon remarriage of such surviving spouse.

[4.] 5. If no benefits are otherwise payable to a surviving spouse or child of a deceased member, the member's accumulated contributions, to any extent not fully paid to such member prior to the member's death or to the surviving spouse or child of such member, shall be paid in one lump sum to the member's named beneficiary or, if none, to the member's estate.

[5.] 6. For purposes of this section, a determination of whether a child of a member is physically or mentally incapacitated from wage earning so that the child is entitled to benefits under this section shall be made at the time of the member's death. 86.620. 1. All civilian employees of the police departments of the cities specified herein shall become members of the retirement system on the first day of the month following completion of six months of continuous employment as a condition of employment.

2. All civilian employees of such police departments who have completed six months of continuous employment as of August 13, 1990, but who have not theretofore been members of this retirement system because they were proscribed from participation by provisions of law in effect prior to such date, shall become members on that date.

3. Any employee described in [the preceding sentence] subsection 2 of this section may establish creditable service for purposes of calculating such employee's pension under sections 86.600 to 86.790 for all years of such employee's employment by such police department, by paying as an employee contribution to the retirement system, on or before August 13, 1991, a single sum equal to the aggregate amount of contributions, without interest, which would have been deducted from such employee's compensation for all years pursuant to section 86.760 if such employee had not been proscribed from participation.

4. Except as [hereinafter] provided in subsection 5 of this section, upon termination of employment prior to completion of five years of creditable service, an employee member shall be paid all of [his] such member's accumulated contributions to the fund, and [his] such member's membership in the retirement system shall cease and [he] such member shall forfeit all rights to any other benefits under the system arising from [his] such member's service to date of termination.

5. A terminated employee member with five or more years of creditable service may choose to withdraw all of such member's accumulated contributions to the fund, in which case such member shall be paid upon demand the amount of [his] such member's accumulated contributions in one lump payment and all provisions of subsection 4 of this section shall apply, or such terminated employee member may permit [his] such member's contributions to remain in the fund until [he] such member reaches [his] such member's normal retirement date[, at which time he shall be entitled to a pension as provided in section 86.650]. Should a terminated member choose to withdraw [his] such member's contributions, [his] such member's membership in the retirement system shall cease, and [he] such member shall forfeit all rights to any other benefits under the system arising from his service to date of termination. The following shall apply to members described in this subsection:

(1) If such member retires after August 28, 1998, and allows such member's contributions to remain in the fund, such member shall be entitled to receive a pension upon such member's normal retirement date pursuant to section 86.650 or may elect to receive a pension commencing upon or after any date prior to such member's normal retirement date upon which early retirement would have been permitted pursuant to section 86.660 if such member had remained a civilian employee of such police department, except that in calculating any qualification pursuant to section 86.660, such member shall not be entitled to count any year of creditable service in excess of such member's total years of creditable service at the time of such member's termination of employment. The amount of any pension commenced upon the basis of a date permitted pursuant to section 86.660 shall be computed on the basis of the member's final compensation and number of years of creditable service, subject to such adjustments as may be applicable pursuant to section 86.660 upon which such member relies in electing the commencement of such member's pension;

(2) If such member retired on or before August 28, 1998, and allowed such member's contributions to remain in the fund, such member shall upon application to the retirement board be appointed by the retirement board as a special consultant on the problems of retirement, aging and other matters, and upon request of the retirement board shall give opinions and be available to give opinions in writing or orally in response to such requests, as may be required. For such services the member shall, beginning the later of August 28, 1998, or the time of such appointment pursuant to this subsection, be entitled to elect to receive compensation in such amount and commencing at such time as such member would have been entitled to elect pursuant to any of the provisions of section 86.660 if such member had terminated service after August 28, 1998. Such member shall be entitled to the same cost-of-living adjustments following the commencement of such compensation as if such member's compensation had been a pension.

86.672. 1. Any member who retires after August 28, 1996, and who is entitled to a pension [under] pursuant to sections 86.600 to 86.790, shall receive each month, in addition to such member's base pension and any other benefits provided in sections 86.600 to 86.790, a supplemental retirement health insurance benefit in the amount of fifty dollars per month. Any person who receives such a supplemental retirement health insurance benefit may also receive not more frequently than annually, in addition to a base pension as may be adjusted pursuant to section 86.675 and in addition to such supplemental retirement benefit, a cost-of-living adjustment to the supplemental retirement health insurance benefit in monthly adjustment increments to be determined by the retirement board.

2. Any member who retired after August 28, 1995, and on or before August 28, 1996, and who met the requirements of subsection 7 of this section on the date of such member's retirement, shall receive each month, in addition to such member's base pension and any other benefits provided in sections 86.600 to 86.790, a supplemental retirement health insurance benefit in the amount of fifty dollars per month payable until the member attains the age of sixty-five years. Any person who receives such a supplemental retirement health insurance benefit may also receive not more frequently than annually, in addition to a base pension as may be adjusted pursuant to section 86.675, and in addition to such supplemental retirement health insurance benefit, a cost-of-living adjustment to the supplemental retirement health insurance benefit in monthly adjustment increments to be determined by the retirement board.

3. Any member who retired after August 28, 1992, and on or before August 28, 1995, and who met the requirements of subsection 7 of this section on the date of such member's retirement, shall receive each month, in addition to the member's base pension and any other benefits provided in sections 86.600 to 86.790, a supplemental retirement health insurance benefit in the amount of fifty dollars per month payable until the member attains the age of sixty-five years. Any member who was retired after August 28, 1992, and on or before August 28, 1995, and who receives a supplemental retirement health insurance benefit, shall upon application to the retirement board, be made, constituted, appointed and employed by the retirement board as a special consultant on the problems of retirement, aging and other matters, until the member attains the age of sixty-five years, and upon request of the retirement board shall give opinions and be available to give opinions in writing or orally, in response to such requests, as may be required. For such services the member shall be compensated monthly, in addition to a base pension as may be adjusted pursuant to section 86.675, and in addition to the supplemental retirement health insurance benefit set out in this subsection, by a cost-of-living adjustment to the supplemental retirement health insurance benefit payable in monthly adjustment increments to be determined by the retirement board.

4. Any member who retired on or before August 28, [1996] 1998, who at the time of such retirement was entitled to a pension under sections 86.600 to 86.790 and who either was not eligible for any supplemental retirement health insurance benefits or was eligible for and began receiving supplemental retirement health insurance benefits but ceased eligibility by attaining age sixty-five, shall upon application to the retirement board, be made, constituted, appointed and employed by the retirement board as a special consultant on the problems of retirement, aging and other matters, and upon request of the retirement board shall give opinions and be available to give opinions in writing or orally in response to such requests, as may be required. For such services the member shall, beginning the later of August 28, [1996] 1998, or the time of such appointment under this subsection, be compensated monthly, in addition to a base pension as may be adjusted pursuant to section 86.675, by a supplemental retirement health insurance benefit in the amount of fifty dollars per month, for assistance in meeting hospitalization and medical care costs or other expenses, and by a cost-of-living adjustment to the supplemental retirement health insurance benefit, in monthly adjustment increments to be determined by the retirement board.

5. The determination of cost-of-living adjustments under this section shall be based on advice of the plan's actuary that the increase in the benefit will not cause the present value of anticipated future plan benefits calculated on the actuarial assumptions used for the last annual valuation to exceed the sum of the retirement system assets plus the present value of anticipated contributions to the retirement system. The determination of whether an adjustment will satisfy said actuarial standard shall be made at the time an increase is granted. If at any time the retirement system shall cease to satisfy such standard, all benefit payments shall continue as adjusted by increases theretofore granted. A member of the retirement board shall have no personal liability for granting increases under this section if that retirement board member in good faith relied and acted upon advice of a qualified actuary that the retirement system would satisfy such standard at the time an adjustment is made. In determining and granting cost-of-living adjustments under this section, the retirement board shall adopt such rules and regulations as may be necessary to effectuate the purposes of this section, including provisions for the manner of computation of such adjustments and the effective dates thereof. The retirement board shall provide for such adjustments to be determined once each year and granted on a date or dates to be chosen by the board and may apply such adjustments in full to members who have retired during the year prior to such adjustments but who have not been retired for one full year.

6. Any member's employment as a special consultant under subsection 3 or 4 of this section shall in no way affect such member's eligibility for retirement benefits under the provisions of sections 86.600 to 86.790, or in any way have the effect of reducing retirement benefits otherwise payable to such member.

7. Members entitled to the benefits provided in subsections 2 and 3 of this section are those members who:

(1) Are under the age of sixty-five years; and

(2) (a) Have at least twenty-five years of creditable service; or

(b) Have a total of age and years of creditable service which equals or exceeds eighty; or

(c) Meet the eligibility requirements for a duty disability pension under the provisions of section 86.670.

8. For purposes of this section, the term member shall include a surviving spouse who is entitled to a pension under sections 86.600 to 86.790. In determining which subsection or subsections are applicable in a given instance, the surviving spouse shall be deemed to have retired on the date of retirement of the member of whom such person is the surviving spouse or on the date of death of such member if such member died prior to retirement. Any such surviving spouse of a member who dies while entitled to payments under this section shall succeed to the full amount of payment under this section to which such member was entitled at the time of such member's death, including any cost-of-living adjustments received by such member in the payment hereunder prior to such member's death.

86.680. 1. Each person who becomes a member of this retirement system pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.600 to 86.790 shall remain a member until the earliest to occur of the following events:

(1) The termination of employment of such person by the applicable police department and the payment to him of all benefits due him pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.600 to 86.790, unless such termination of employment by the police department shall be for the purpose of entering military service in a national emergency;

(2) The termination of employment by the police department to enter military service in a national emergency and the failure of such person to return to employment by such department within one year after his discharge from the military service, unless there shall remain benefits due such person pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.600 to 86.790, in which event such person's membership shall terminate pursuant to this subdivision when there shall no longer remain any such benefits due such person; and

(3) The death of such person.

2. [Beneficiaries and survivors of members] If the surviving spouse of a member is entitled to a pension benefit pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.600 to 86.790, such surviving spouse shall be a member of the retirement system for so long as such surviving spouse shall remain entitled to such benefit. Any beneficiary or survivor of a deceased member shall not be [deemed members] a member of this retirement system if such beneficiary or survivor is not a surviving spouse entitled to benefits pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.600 to 86.790, irrespective of whether there may remain benefits due [them] such beneficiary or survivor from this system.

[86.750. 1. The retirement board shall be the trustees of the funds created by sections 86.600 to 86.790. The retirement board shall have power, in the name and on behalf of the retirement system, to purchase, acquire, hold, invest, lend, lease, sell, assign, transfer and dispose of all property, rights, and securities, and enter into written contracts, all as may be necessary or proper to carry out the purposes of sections 86.600 to 86.790.

2. No trustee and no member of the retirement system shall have any direct interest in the gains or profits of any investment made by the retirement board, nor as such receive any compensation for his service.]

86.750. 1. The retirement board shall act as trustee of the funds created by or collected pursuant to the provisions of sections 86.600 to 86.790. No investment transaction authorized by the retirement board shall be conducted by any company or firm in which a member of the board has an interest, nor shall any member of the board profit directly or indirectly from any such investment. All investments shall be made for the account of the retirement system, and any securities or other properties obtained by the retirement board may be held by a custodian in the name of the retirement system, or in the name of a nominee in order to facilitate the expeditious transfer of such securities or other property. Such securities or other properties may be held by such custodian in bearer form or in book entry form. The retirement system is further authorized to deposit, or have deposited for its account, eligible securities in a central depository system or clearing corporation or in a federal reserve bank under a book entry system as defined in the Uniform Commercial Code, sections 400.8-102 and 400.8-109, RSMo. House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-SECOND DAY, Wednesday, March 25, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

It's mid-week, O God, and we are back into the business of debating, arguing, discussing, formulating, amending, reading, and revising. There are first readings, second readings, third readings, cumbersome notes and mountains of paper. Sometimes the amount of time these representatives have available to them simply doesn't lend itself to anything more than going from one meeting to the next, one set of papers to the next.

As the time of spring break fades into the background, keep those here in these chambers and those in the surrounding offices up for the jobs they must do. Give them strength and stamina; give them a sense of humor; give them a desire to do their very best as trustees of this state's government.

Take us through this week with the awareness of Your grace and mercy and help us appreciate the beauty of the spring unfolding around us. Grant us peace, God of all creation. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

"301.025. 1. No state registration license to operate any motor vehicle in this state shall be issued unless the application for license of a motor vehicle or trailer is accompanied by a tax receipt or a statement certified by the county or township collector of the county or township in which the applicant's property was assessed showing that the state and county tangible personal property taxes for the preceding year, or for the current year when the motor vehicle is being registered in December for an upcoming January registration, have been paid by the applicant or that no such taxes were due or, if the applicant is not a resident of this state and serving in the armed forces of the United States, the application is accompanied by a leave and earnings statement from such person verifying such status. Every county and township collector shall give each person a tax receipt or a certified statement of tangible personal property taxes paid. The receipt issued by the county collector in any county of the first classification with a charter form of government which contains part of a city with a population of at least three hundred fifty thousand inhabitants which is located in more than one county, any county of the first classification without a charter form of government with a population of at least one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants which contains part of a city with a population of at least three hundred fifty thousand inhabitants which is located in more than one county and any county of the first classification without a charter form of government with a population of at least one hundred ten thousand but less than one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants shall be determined null and void if the person paying tangible personal property taxes issues or passes a check or other similar sight order which is returned to the collector because the account upon which the check or order was drawn was closed or did not have sufficient funds at the time of presentation for payment by the collector to meet the face amount of the check or order. The collector may assess and collect in addition to any other penalty or interest that may be owed, a penalty of ten dollars or five percent of the total amount of the returned check or order whichever amount is greater to be deposited in the county general revenue fund, but in no event shall such penalty imposed exceed one hundred dollars. The collector may refuse to accept any check or other similar sight order in payment of any tax currently owed plus penalty or interest from a person who previously attempted to pay such amount with a check or order that was returned to the collector unless the remittance is in the form of a cashier's check, certified check or money order. If a person does not comply with the provisions of this section, a tax receipt issued pursuant to this section is null and void and no state registration license shall be issued or renewed. Where no such taxes are due each such collector shall, upon request, certify such fact and transmit such statement to the person making the request. Each receipt or statement shall describe by type the total number of motor vehicles on which personal property taxes were paid, and no renewal of any state registration license shall be issued to any person for a number greater than that shown on his tax receipt or statement except for a vehicle which was purchased without another vehicle being traded therefor, or for a vehicle previously registered in another state, provided the application for title or other evidence shows that the date the vehicle was purchased or was first registered in this state was such that no personal property tax was owed on said vehicle as of the date of the last tax receipt or certified statement prior to the renewal. The director of revenue shall make necessary rules and regulations for the enforcement of this section, and shall design all necessary forms.

2. Every county collector in counties with a population of over six hundred thousand and less than nine hundred thousand shall give priority to issuing tax receipts or certified statements pursuant to this section for any person whose motor vehicle registration expires in January. Such collector shall send tax receipts or certified statements for personal property taxes for the previous year within three days to any person who pays the person's personal property tax in person, and within twenty working days, if the payment is made by mail. Any person wishing to have priority pursuant to this subsection shall notify the collector at the time of payment of the property taxes that a motor vehicle registration expires in January. Any person purchasing a new vehicle in December and licensing said vehicle in January of the following year, may use the personal property tax receipt of the prior year as proof of payment.

3. In addition to all other requirements, the director of revenue shall not register any vehicle subject to the heavy vehicle use tax imposed by Section 4481 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 unless the applicant presents proof of payment, or that such tax is not owing, in such form as may be prescribed by the United States Secretary of the Treasury. The operation of a motor vehicle with such transferred plates shall be lawful for no more than thirty days. As used in this subsection, the term "trade-in motor vehicle or trailer" shall include any single motor vehicle or trailer sold by the buyer of the newly purchased vehicle or trailer, as long as the license plates for the trade-in motor vehicle or trailer are still valid.

2. In the case of a transfer of ownership the original owner may register another motor vehicle under the same number, upon the payment of a fee of two dollars, if the motor vehicle is of horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, not in excess of that originally registered. When such motor vehicle is of greater horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, for which a greater fee is prescribed, applicant shall pay a transfer fee of two dollars and a pro rata portion for the difference in fees. When such vehicle is of less horsepower, gross weight or (in case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, for which a lesser fee is prescribed, applicant shall not be entitled to a refund.

3. License plates may be transferred from a motor vehicle which will no longer be operated to a newly purchased motor vehicle by the owner of such vehicles. The owner shall pay a transfer fee of two dollars if the newly purchased vehicle is of horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, not in excess of that of the vehicle which will no longer be operated. When the newly purchased motor vehicle is of greater horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, for which a greater fee is prescribed, the applicant shall pay a transfer fee of two dollars and a pro rata portion of the difference in fees. When the newly purchased vehicle is of less horsepower, gross weight or (in the case of a passenger-carrying commercial motor vehicle) seating capacity, for which a lesser fee is prescribed, the applicant shall not be entitled to a refund.

4. Upon the sale of a motor vehicle or trailer by a dealer, a buyer who has made application for registration, by mail or otherwise, may operate the same for a period of fifteen days after taking possession thereof, if during such period the motor vehicle or trailer shall have attached thereto, in the manner required by section 301.130, number plates issued to the dealer. Upon application and presentation of satisfactory evidence that the buyer has applied for registration, a dealer may furnish such number plates to the buyer for such temporary use. In such event, the dealer shall require the buyer to deposit the sum of ten dollars and fifty cents to be returned to the buyer upon return of the number plates as a guarantee that said buyer will return to the dealer such number plates within fifteen days. The director shall issue a temporary permit or paper plate authorizing the operation of a motor vehicle or trailer by a buyer for not more than [twenty] thirty days of the date of purchase.

5. The temporary permit or paper plate shall be made available by the director of revenue and may be purchased from the department of revenue upon proof of purchase of a motor vehicle or trailer for which the buyer has no registration plate available for transfer, or from a dealer upon purchase of a motor vehicle or trailer for which the buyer has no registration plate available for transfer. The director shall make temporary plates or permits available to registered dealers in this state in sets of ten plates or permits. The fee for the temporary permit or plate shall be seven dollars and fifty cents for each permit or plate issued. No dealer shall charge more than seven dollars and fifty cents for each permit issued. The permit or plate shall be valid for a period of [twenty] thirty days from the date of [issuance by the director of revenue to the purchaser of a motor vehicle or trailer, or from the date of sale of the motor vehicle or trailer by a dealer for which the purchaser obtains a permit or plate as set out above] purchase of the motor vehicle or trailer.

6. The permit or plate shall be issued on a form prescribed by the director and issued only for the applicant's use in the operation of the motor vehicle or trailer purchased to enable him to legally operate the vehicle while proper title and registration plate are being obtained, and shall be displayed on no other vehicle. Permits or paper plates issued under this section shall not be transferable or renewable and shall not be valid upon issuance of proper registration plates for the motor vehicle or trailer. The director shall determine the size and numbering configuration, construction, and color of the permit and plate.

7. The dealer or authorized agent shall insert the date of issuance and expiration date, year, make, and manufacturer's number of vehicle on the paper plate or permit when issued to the buyer. The dealer shall also insert his dealer's number on the paper plate. Every dealer that issues a temporary permit or paper plate shall keep, for inspection of proper officers, a correct record of each permit or plate issued by him by recording the permit or plate number, buyer's name and address, year, make, manufacturer's number of vehicle on which the permit or plate is to be used, and the date of issuance."; and

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-THIRD DAY, Thursday, March 26, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

O Lord, Your creation astounds us with the freshness of the spring air, the smell of growing grass and new flowers; help us, even as we toil in these enclosed walls, to appreciate the display You set before us.

Today's news is once again filled with the frailties of human nature - from greed to dishonesty, unnatural desires to natural curiosity - but again, to our utter horror, children have taken the lives of children and adult alike. O God, wrap your comforting arms around the people of Jonesboro, Arkansas, as they try to comprehend what has happened to their city and their citizens. Forgive the children who have senselessly destroyed untold numbers of lives and their own in the process.

God, in a world that seems to have gone crazy, help us... help us resolve to use our abilities, our skills, our opportunities to make this world better. And give us the courage that it takes to a make a difference. Grant us understanding, and give us peace. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Julia Miller, Gena Miller, Rebecca Vossmeyer, Laura Stude, Jackie Haar, Stacey Held, Dan Hunzeker, Brian Schaeffer, Brad Gildehaus, Melissa Laramore, Chris Clausen, Marie Williams, Larissa Miller, Casey Dabney, Andrew Oates, Darren Green, Clarissa Darnell, Valerie Huffman, Lauren Walter, Paige Cook, Emily Ellis, Timothy Runge, Rodney Valiant, Lindsey Schrader, David Ray, Daniel Yingling, Kristen Narrow, Joe Bess, Jeremy McMillian, Amanda Easter, Brad Dush, Christopher Mehan, Meghan Mehan, Kimberly Mehan, Jay Dalton, Allison Winheim, Tara Barmann and Myles L. House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-FOURTH DAY, Monday, March 30, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"We are members one of another." (Eph. 4:25).

On Saturday, some of us from this body and the Senate attended a most unusual conference at Lincoln University. A Conference on Justice addressed the question of crime and punishment. Participants included the mothers of two men on death row, a highway patrolman, a judge who is a former prosecutor, the head of the department of corrections, and religious groups, representing the most diverse elements of our state from every point of view. I marveled at how they could come together in the same room.

Gracious God, how easy it is for us to talk about or past the other, which is why we do it so often. Help me this day to find some activity or difficulty in my life, or perhaps in my work in this chamber, which will push me toward a more inclusive and healing process to deal with some issues. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kelly Meagher and Deani Perkins.

The Journal of the forty-third day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-FIFTH DAY, Tuesday, March 31, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

It's difficult, O God, as we read through the papers, not to be assaulted by all of the trauma and disaster prevalent there - tornadoes that whip through towns taking lives and destroying property; executions and murders; battles and debates over everything from seat belts to tobacco growers rights. There are even people who feel that our government is interfering far too much in the business of private citizens.

As these legislators go about the business of this house, give them the courage to see the good in what they are doing. Let them have the integrity to develop ideas and policies that speak to the needs of the people of Missouri in the most beneficial way. Remind them that there are boundaries that need to be broken down but that there are also boundaries that should be respected and not crossed.

God of all that is, was and ever shall be, let us give ourselves to You this day so that whatever we do and say, we sense Your presence guiding us. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Christina Thomure, Wendy Wildberger, Jennifer Froelker, Meagan Reeves, Julie Coleman, Josh Klipsch, Tim Power, Mike Warzel, James Lafikes, Craig Dudenhoeffer, Christopher Krummey, MacArthur Bennett, Charlie Merrell, Carl Lucas, Ebonee Calvin, Sheree Black, Jocelyn Hearn, Ashley Cropp, Lindsey Suehs, Saxon Cole, Ryan Dierker, Elizabeth Reba Raydene Clubine, Dawna Kelley, Ann Hurst, Krystal Bradford, Kelly Bajier, Alex Apter, Ryan Lowry, Justin Collins, Michael Canellas, Libby Piel, Kennisha Robinson, Casey Abington, Stephanie Harris, Lisa J. House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-SIXTH DAY, WEDNESDAY, APRIL 1, 1998

Representative Lograsso in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"The wisdom of the world is foolishness with God." (I Cor. 3:19).

Today, some of us obviously have been caught by the annual April Fool's Day activity and we will all hear of some world famous and House pranks that have been pulled off. As with so many of our special days, it has its origins in the religious world, the reference to those who challenge the world's value system with the wisdom of God.

Today, Eternal God, we rejoice and celebrate those "holy fools" who have always challenged the wisdom of the world, recalling Paul who asks believers to be fools. As our society says good-bye to Bella Abzug, and we will commemorate the 30th anniversary of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. on Saturday, we celebrate those who took on the conventional wisdom; we honor those who have called for forgiveness as a prerequisite for healing after the horrible deaths in Jonesboro, Arkansas, in a society which seems to want punishment and revenge. We want to listen more closely to those many men, women and children who call to a sanity which is seen as insanity in the eyes of the world. Fill us full of that holy insanity which is in fact true Wisdom. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Connor Scott Kinzer, Josef Clark, Cindy Palmer, Nathan Urhahn, Stephanie Bloss, Mary Johnson, Joe Howard, Stephanie Harris, Adam Muffler, Elizabeth Walters, Matthew Beck, Julia Goss, Mary Lueder, Margaret Mayfield, Jenna Harris, Simon Hile, Kenan Petrash, Zachary Symes, Lauren Elise Tappana, Emily Bollinger, David Norber and Jeff Kissel.

The Journal of the forty-fifth day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY, Thursday, April 2, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Sovereign God, do not let us be ashamed to stand with heads and hearts bowed for a few brief moments this morning, as we come to You in prayer. Let us recognize our need for Your guidance in all that we do and say.

We pray for the members of this body who need the healing ministry of the Great Physician and for their loved ones who are struggling in illness or grief.

We pray for the public good this day. Let us not allow private passion or petty interest to dictate our actions; let the responsibility of freedom be acknowledged as a stewardship of concern for those in need; let our service to the people of this state be a test of honor and justice. Help us so that we don't let the busy-ness of earning a living keep us from the business of living a worthwhile life.

O God, we pray for the good of this state, for all her people, and for all of us as Your children. Bless those in this House and all who work to uphold the sacred duty of this state's government and grant them a weekend of well-deserved rest. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Rachel Bredemann, Jack Bredemann, Steven Bredemann, Andrew Bredemann, Lindsay Farris, Logan Hanschen, Jody Emily, Robert Dawson, Jill Weissgerber, Mallory Karigan, Sarah Schultz, Scott Wiegert, Heather Hayes, Bethany Noble, Brian Wiese, Matthew Fraley, Sara Howell, Tinesha Moten, Joshua LeVere, Jason Berra, Tommy Manning, Angie Woodson, Laura Weilbaecher, Matthew Harms, Ryan Mughal, Alex Chladek, Gregory Ellis Hirsch, Tricia Haldiman, Jeremy Haldiman and Patrick Lybyer.

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY, Monday, April 6, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"So Moses went up to the Lord and said, 'this people has committed a grave sin...if only You would forgive their sin.' " (Ex. 32:31).

The Christian world begins Holy Week, the Muslim world began its Hajj, the sacred pilgrimage to Mecca last week and the Jewish world will begin Passover on Saturday.

It is a week that the major faiths acknowledge personal sin and claim Your mercy O God. We pray in a special way for the nation at this sacred season as we struggle with the complicated world we deal with as instant media coverage and the smallness of the globe is ever more evident.

Lies, deceit, propaganda, the presence of spin doctors, accusations and counter-accusations and the speculations, leaks and misuse of the canons of sound journalism are tossed around so freely by all of us for so many different reasons. We struggle as a society with trying to find some human explanation for the evil of youngsters doing more and more evil things. Teach us gracious God to say I did it, I am sorry, I ask and I offer forgiveness. Help us avoid the extremes of passing judgment on others which is not ours to pass and substituting a false language of pop-psychology and rationalization to cloak the presence of sin, while realizing that some factors help us explain some of the evil such as mental defect, chemical disorders and unstable relationships. Above all, let us not be deceived by the tribunal of our own conscience where we cannot hide from ourselves or from You, our Sovereign, who offers mercy if we acknowledge the sin. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Melinda Giesler, Amy Steffens, Kristen Dalhoff, Nate Hoffman, Elliott Kehoe, Kristen McGrath and Megan Gross.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FORTY-NINTH DAY, Tuesday, April 7, 1998

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

O Lord, this week, by many, is called "Holy" - a week of special observances, a week of prayer and reflection, of opportunities to worship in our particular communities of faith. For many others it is simply another week of "business as usual." Whatever our understanding or belief about this season, we pause, at this particular moment, just to be grateful for another day of life. We acknowledge, with gratitude, the breath of life. We acknowledge, with gratitude, the blessings of rain to refresh the earth and of sun to warm us and encourage the growth of spring.

O God, sometimes in the midst of all the bad we read and hear, we forget that there is good in the world - the smile of encouragement from a friend, the hug and wet kiss of a child, the sense of accomplishment we feel when we recognize a project well done, the handshake of a grateful constituent. Lord, let us never forget to be thankful. Let us never forget to see Your hand at work in even the smallest delight of the day.

And now, O God, bless this Assembly in its work. Give them strength for the day and courage to make a difference. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Gerad Naeger, Alexis Borowick, Nick Lammers, Megan Prather, Jon Sobbe, Samantha Morris, Christopher Lohman, Daniel Zahner, Bonnie Nations, Tara Wilson, Clayton Verdot, Emily Masso, Maxwell L. Second Regular Session, 89th General Assembly

FIFTIETH DAY, Wednesday, April 8, 1998

Speaker Pro Tem Kreider in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Praise the Lord all you nations, glorify him all your peoples. For steadfast is his kindness toward us and the faithfulness of the Lord is forever." (Ps. 117)

This is the shortest psalm in the Book of Psalms. It is used as a prayer for rejoicing. This morning in this sacred week in the calendar of the major faiths, we rejoice that we can begin this day here to be affirmed and challenged by this call to be among the family of nations who praise You, our God. We ask for forgiveness and for the grace for each of us to do our part, to set aside those issues which divide us and to end the spread of words and weapons of divisiveness and hatred in so many ways.

We give thanks for medical developments announced recently about breast cancer and arthritis, another step forward in healing in another way. May we be healed and healers in whatever way we can this week which gives meaning to the rest of the year as we claim Your merciful Healing Power for our own sins and the sins which tear Your one family apart, O God. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Nicolas Spellman, Kelly Zeilstra, Aaron Hilgedick, Samantha Genochio, Angela Rudebeck, Melissa Lickenbrock, Erin Buchanan, Matt Baszis, Bree Schuster, Lacey Roettgen, Steven Saxton, Tim Miller, Ashley Miller, Jordon Gorrell, Zachary Rigatti, Randy Stephens, Claire Joanna Moellering, Katherine Risley, Will Bartz, Annie Shih, A.J. Further amend said bill, Page 9, Section 302.302, Line 8 of said page, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"302.309. 1. Whenever any license is suspended pursuant to sections 302.302 to 302.309, the director of revenue shall return the license to the operator immediately upon the termination of the period of suspension and upon compliance with the requirements of chapter 303, RSMo.

2. Any operator whose license is revoked under these sections, upon the termination of the period of revocation, shall apply for a new license in the manner prescribed by law.

3. (1) All circuit courts or the director of revenue shall have jurisdiction to hear applications and make eligibility determinations granting limited driving privileges. Any application may be made in writing to the director of revenue and the person's reasons for requesting the limited driving privileges shall be made therein.

(2) When any court of record having jurisdiction or the director of revenue finds that an operator is required to operate a motor vehicle in connection with any of the following:

(a) A business, occupation, or employment;

(b) Seeking medical treatment for such operator;

(c) Attending school or other institution of higher education;

(d) Attending alcohol or drug treatment programs; or

(e) Any other circumstance the court or director finds would create an undue hardship on the operator; the court or director may grant such limited driving privilege as the circumstances of the case justify if the court or director finds undue hardship would result to the individual, and while so operating a motor vehicle within the restrictions and limitations of the limited driving privileges the driver shall not be guilty of operating a motor vehicle without a valid license.

(3) An operator may make application to the proper court in the county in which such operator resides or in the county in which is located the operator's principal place of business or employment. Any application for a limited driving privilege made to a circuit court shall name the director as a party defendant and shall be served upon the director prior to the grant of any limited privileges, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the applicant's driving record as certified by the director. Any applicant for a limited driving privilege shall have on file with the department of revenue proof of financial responsibility as required by chapter 303, RSMo. Any application by a person who transports persons or property as classified in section 302.015 may be accompanied by proof of financial responsibility as required by chapter 303, RSMo, but if proof of financial responsibility does not accompany the application, or if the applicant does not have on file with the department of revenue proof of financial responsibility, the court or the director has discretion to grant the limited driving privilege to the person solely for the purpose of operating a vehicle whose owner has complied with chapter 303, RSMo, for that vehicle, and the limited driving privilege must state such restriction. When operating such vehicle under such restriction the person shall carry proof that the owner has complied with chapter 303, RSMo, for that vehicle.

(4) The court order or the director's grant of the limited driving privilege shall indicate the termination date of the privilege, which shall be not later than the end of the period of suspension or revocation. A copy of any court order shall be sent by the clerk of the court to the director, and a copy shall be given to the driver which shall be carried by the driver whenever such driver operates a motor vehicle. The director of revenue upon granting a limited driving privilege shall give a copy of the limited driving privilege to the applicant. The applicant shall carry a copy of the limited driving privilege while operating a motor vehicle. A conviction which results in the assessment of points under the provisions of section 302.302, other than a violation of a municipal stop sign ordinance where no accident is involved, against a driver who is operating a vehicle under the authority of a limited driving privilege terminates the privilege, as of the date the points are assessed to the person's driving record. If the date of arrest is prior to the issuance of the limited driving privilege, the privilege shall not be terminated. The director shall notify by ordinary mail the driver whose privilege is so terminated.

(5) [Except as provided in subdivision (6) of this subsection,] No person is eligible to receive [hardship] a limited driving privilege whose license has been suspended [or], revoked, or denied, or who has been deemed ineligible for a driving privilege for the following reasons:

(a) A conviction of violating the provisions of section 577.010 or 577.012, RSMo, or any similar provision of any federal or state law, or a municipal or county law where the judge in such case was an attorney and the defendant was represented by or waived the right to an attorney in writing, until the person has completed the first thirty days of a suspension or revocation imposed pursuant to this chapter;

(b) A conviction of any felony in the commission of which a motor vehicle was used;

(c) Has had their license to operate a motor vehicle revoked where that person cannot obtain a new license for a period of five years because of two convictions of driving while intoxicated as prescribed in subdivision (10) of section 302.060, until the person has served at least the first two years of the five-year license denial period;

(d) Has had their license to operate a motor vehicle revoked where that person cannot obtain a new license for a period of ten years, as prescribed in subdivision (9) of section 302.060, until the person has served at least the first three years of the ten-year license denial period;

(e) Has been convicted of the crime of involuntary manslaughter while operating a motor vehicle in an intoxicated condition;

[(c)] (f) Ineligibility for a license because of the provisions of subdivision (1), (2), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), [(9), (10)] or (11) of section 302.060;

[(d)] (g) Because of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of narcotic drugs, a controlled substance as defined in chapter 195, RSMo, or having left the scene of an accident as provided in [section 577.060, RSMo] state law, or a county or municipal law;

[(e)] (h) Due to a revocation for the first time for failure to submit to a chemical test pursuant to section 577.041, RSMo, or due to a refusal to submit to a chemical test in any other state, if such person has not completed the first ninety days of such revocation;

[(f) Violation] (i) Violating more than once [of] the provisions of section 577.041, RSMo, or a similar implied consent law of any other state;

[(g)] (j) Disqualification of a commercial driver's license pursuant to sections 302.700 to 302.780, however, nothing in this subsection shall prevent a person holding a commercial driver's license who is suspended or revoked as a result of an action occurring while not driving a commercial motor vehicle or driving for pay, but while driving in an individual capacity as an operator of a personal vehicle from applying for [hardship] limited driving privileges to operate a commercial vehicle, if otherwise eligible for such [hardship] limited driving privilege; or

[(h)] (k) Due to a suspension pursuant to subsection 2 of section 302.525 and who has not completed the first thirty days of such suspension, provided the person is not otherwise ineligible for limited driving privileges; or due to a revocation under subsection 2 of section 302.525 if such person has not completed such revocation.

(6) (a) [Provided that pursuant to the provisions of this section, the applicant is not otherwise ineligible for a limited driving privilege,] A circuit court or the director may, in the manner prescribed in this subsection, allow a person who has had such person's license to operate a motor vehicle revoked where that person cannot obtain a new license for a period of ten years, as prescribed in subdivision (9) of section 302.060, to apply for limited driving privileges pursuant to this subsection if such person has served at least three years of such disqualification, denial or revocation. Such person shall present evidence satisfactory to the court or the director that such person has not been convicted of any offense related to alcohol, controlled substances or drugs during the preceding three years and that the person's habits and conduct show that the person no longer poses a threat to the public safety of this state. The issuance of a limited driving privilege under this subsection is prohibited if at the time of application the person is otherwise ineligible for such privilege for any reason set forth in paragraph (a), (b), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j), or (k) of subdivision (5) of this subsection.

(b) A circuit court or the director may, in the manner prescribed in this subsection, allow a person who has had such person's license to operate a motor vehicle revoked where that person cannot obtain a new license for a period of five years, as prescribed in subdivision (10) of section 302.060, to apply for limited driving privileges pursuant to this subsection if such person has served at least two years of such disqualification or revocation. Such person shall present evidence satisfactory to the court or the director that such person has not been convicted of any offense related to alcohol, controlled substances or drugs during the preceding two years and that the person's habits and conduct show that the person no longer poses a threat to the public safety of this state. This issuance of a limited driving privilege under this subsection is prohibited if at the time of application the person is otherwise ineligible for such privilege for any reason set forth in paragraph (a), (b), (e), (f), (g), (h), (i), (j), or (k) of subdivision (5) of this subsection. Any person who is denied a license permanently in this state because of an alcohol-related conviction subsequent to a restoration of such person's driving privileges pursuant to subdivision (9) of section 302.060 shall not be eligible for limited driving privileges pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision.

4. Any person who has received notice of denial of a request of limited driving privileges by the director of revenue may make a request for a review of the director's determination in the circuit court of the county in which the person resides or the county in which is located the person's principal place of business or employment within thirty days of the date of mailing of the notice of denial. Such review shall be based upon the records of the department of revenue and other competent evidence and shall be limited to a review of whether the applicant was statutorily entitled to the limited driving privileges.

5. The director of revenue shall promulgate rules and regulations necessary to carry out the provisions of this section.

302.545. 1. Any person who is less than twenty-one years of age and whose driving privilege has been suspended or revoked, for a first determination under sections 302.500 to 302.540, that such person was driving with two-hundredths of one percent of blood alcohol content, shall have all official records and all recordations maintained by the department of revenue of such suspension or revocation expunged two years after the date of such suspension or revocation, or when such person attains the age of twenty-one, whichever date first occurs. Such expungement shall be performed by the department of revenue without need of a court order. No records shall be expunged if the person [was found guilty or pled guilty to operating] has a conviction, as that term is defined in section 302.700, for the operation of a commercial motor vehicle, as defined in section 302.700, with a blood alcohol content of at least four-hundredths of one percent.

2. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any person whose license is suspended or revoked for a second or subsequent time pursuant to subsection 1 of this section or who is convicted of any alcohol-related driving offense before the age of twenty-one including, but not limited to:

(1) Driving while intoxicated pursuant to section 577.010, RSMo; or

(2) Driving with excessive blood alcohol content pursuant to section 577.012, RSMo."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 57, Section 307.390, Line 8 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"577.020. 1. Any person who operates a motor vehicle upon the public highways of this state shall be deemed to have given consent to, subject to the provisions of sections 577.020 to 577.041, a chemical test or tests of the person's breath, blood, saliva or urine for the purpose of determining the alcohol or drug content of the person's blood pursuant to the following circumstances:

(1) If the person is arrested for any offense arising out of acts which the arresting officer had reasonable grounds to believe were committed while the person was driving a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated or drugged condition; or

(2) If the person is under the age of twenty-one and is stopped or detained for any reason by a law enforcement officer who during such stop or detention has reasonable grounds to believe that such person was driving a motor vehicle with an amount of alcohol in the person's blood that would require a notice of suspension or revocation pursuant to sections 302.500 to 302.541, RSMo. The test shall be administered at the direction of the [arresting] law enforcement officer whenever the person has been arrested [for the offense] or stopped for any reason.

2. The implied consent to submit to the chemical tests listed in subsection 1 of this section shall be limited to not more than two such tests arising from the same arrest, incident or charge.

3. Chemical analysis of the person's breath, blood, saliva, or urine to be considered valid pursuant to the provisions of sections 577.020 to 577.041 shall be performed according to methods approved by the state department of health by licensed medical personnel or by a person possessing a valid permit issued by the state department of health for this purpose.

4. The state department of health shall approve satisfactory techniques, devices, equipment, or methods to be considered valid pursuant to the provisions of sections 577.020 to 577.041 and shall establish standards to ascertain the qualifications and competence of individuals to conduct analyses and to issue permits which shall be subject to termination or revocation by the state department of health.

5. The person tested may have a physician, or a qualified technician, chemist, registered nurse, or other qualified person at the choosing and expense of the person to be tested, administer a test in addition to any administered at the direction of a law enforcement officer. The failure or inability to obtain an additional test by a person shall not preclude the admission of evidence relating to the test taken at the direction of a law enforcement officer.

6. Upon the request of the person who is tested, full information concerning the test shall be made available to him.

7. Any person given a chemical test of the person's breath pursuant to subsection 1 of this section or a field sobriety test may be videotaped during any such test at the direction of the arresting law enforcement officer. Any such video recording made during the chemical test pursuant to this subsection or a field sobriety test shall be admissible as evidence at either any trial of such person for either a violation of any state law or county or municipal ordinance, or any license revocation or suspension proceeding pursuant to the provisions of chapter 302, RSMo.

577.023. 1. For purposes of this section, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) An "intoxication-related traffic offense" is driving while intoxicated, driving with excessive blood alcohol content, involuntary manslaughter pursuant to subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 565.024, RSMo, assault in the second degree pursuant to subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of section 565.060, RSMo, assault of a law enforcement officer in the second degree pursuant to subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of section 565.082, RSMo, or driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs in violation of state law or a county or municipal ordinance, where the judge in such case was an attorney and the defendant was represented by or waived the right to an attorney in writing;

(2) A "persistent offender" is one of the following:

(a) A person who has pleaded guilty to or has been found guilty of two or more intoxication-related traffic offenses, where such two or more offenses occurred within ten years of the occurrence of the intoxication-related traffic offense for which the person is charged;

(b) A person who has pleaded guilty to or has been found guilty of involuntary manslaughter pursuant to subsection 1 of section 565.024, RSMo, assault in the second degree pursuant to subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of section 565.060, RSMo, or assault of a law enforcement officer in the second degree pursuant to subdivision (3) of subsection 1 of section 565.082, RSMo; and

(3) A "prior offender" is a person who has pleaded guilty to or has been found guilty of one intoxication-related traffic offense, where such prior offense occurred within five years of the occurrence of the intoxication-related traffic offense for which the person is charged.

2. Any person who pleads guilty to or is found guilty of a violation of section 577.010 or 577.012 who is alleged and proved to be a prior offender shall be guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

3. Any person who pleads guilty to or is found guilty of a violation of section 577.010 or 577.012 who is alleged and proved to be a persistent offender shall be guilty of a class D felony.

4. No court shall suspend the imposition of sentence as to a prior or persistent offender under this section nor sentence such person to pay a fine in lieu of a term of imprisonment, section 557.011, RSMo, to the contrary notwithstanding, nor shall such person be eligible for parole or probation until he has served a minimum of forty-eight consecutive hours' imprisonment, unless as a condition of such parole or probation such person performs at least ten days of community service under the supervision of the court in those jurisdictions which have a recognized program for community service.

5. The court shall find the defendant to be a prior offender or persistent offender, if:

(1) The indictment or information, original or amended, or the information in lieu of an indictment pleads all essential facts warranting a finding that the defendant is a prior offender or persistent offender; and

(2) Evidence is introduced that establishes sufficient facts pleaded to warrant a finding beyond a reasonable doubt the defendant is a prior offender or persistent offender; and

(3) The court makes findings of fact that warrant a finding beyond a reasonable doubt by the court that the defendant is a prior offender or persistent offender.

6. In a jury trial, the facts shall be pleaded, established and found prior to submission to the jury outside of its hearing.

7. In a trial without a jury or upon a plea of guilty, the court may defer the proof in findings of such facts to a later time, but prior to sentencing.

8. The defendant shall be accorded full rights of confrontation and cross-examination, with the opportunity to present evidence, at such hearings.

9. The defendant may waive proof of the facts alleged.

10. Nothing in this section shall prevent the use of presentence investigations or commitments.

11. At the sentencing hearing both the state and the defendant shall be permitted to present additional information bearing on the issue of sentence.

12. The pleas or findings of guilty shall be prior to the date of commission of the present offense.

13. The court shall not instruct the jury as to the range of punishment or allow the jury, upon a finding of guilty, to assess and declare the punishment as part of its verdict in cases of prior offenders or persistent offenders.

14. Evidence of prior convictions shall be heard and determined by the trial court out of the hearing of the jury prior to the submission of the case to the jury, and shall include but not be limited to evidence of convictions received by a search of the records of the Missouri uniform law enforcement system maintained by the Missouri state highway patrol. After hearing the evidence, the court shall enter its findings thereon. A conviction of a violation of a municipal or county ordinance in a county or municipal court for driving while intoxicated or a conviction or a plea of guilty or a finding of guilty followed by a suspended imposition of sentence, suspended execution of sentence, probation or parole or any combination thereof in a state court shall be treated as a prior conviction.

577.041. 1. If a person under arrest, or who is less than twenty-one years of age when stopped for any reason, refuses upon the request of the [arresting] officer to submit to any test allowed [under] pursuant to section 577.020, then none shall be given and evidence of the refusal shall be admissible in a proceeding [under] pursuant to section 565.024 or 565.060, RSMo, or section 577.010 or 577.012. The request of the arresting officer shall include the reasons of the officer for requesting the person to submit to a test and also shall inform the person that evidence of [his] refusal to take the test may be used against [him] such person and that [his] the person's license shall be immediately revoked upon [his] refusal to take the test. If a person when requested to submit to any test allowed [under] pursuant to section 577.020 requests to speak to an attorney, [he] the person shall be granted twenty minutes in which to attempt to contact an attorney. If upon the completion of the twenty-minute period the person continues to refuse to submit to any test, it shall be deemed a refusal. In this event, the [arresting] officer shall, on behalf of the director of revenue, serve the notice of license revocation personally upon the [arrested] person and shall take possession of any license to operate a motor vehicle issued by this state which is held by that person. The arresting officer shall issue a temporary permit, on behalf of the director of revenue, which is valid for fifteen days and shall also give the person a notice of [his] such person's right to file a petition for review to contest the license revocation.

2. The [arresting] officer shall make a sworn report to the director of revenue, which shall include the following:

(1) That the officer either has reasonable grounds to believe that the arrested person was driving a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition or the person is under the age of twenty-one and is stopped or detained for any reason by a law enforcement officer who during such stop or detention has reasonable grounds to believe such person was driving a motor vehicle with an amount of alcohol in the person's blood that would require a notice of suspension or revocation pursuant to sections 302.500 to 302.541, RSMo;

(2) That the [arrested] person refused to submit to a chemical test;

(3) Whether the officer secured the license to operate a motor vehicle of the person;

(4) Whether the officer issued a fifteen-day temporary permit;

(5) Copies of the notice of revocation, the fifteen-day temporary permit and the notice of the right to file a petition for review, which notices and permit may be combined in one document; and

(6) Any license to operate a motor vehicle which the officer has taken into possession.

3. Upon receipt of the officer's report, the director shall revoke the license of the person refusing to take the test for a period of one year; or if the person [arrested be] is a nonresident, [his] such person's operating permit or privilege shall be revoked for one year; or if the person is a resident without a license or permit to operate a motor vehicle in this state, an order shall be issued denying the person the issuance of a license or permit for a period of one year.

4. If a person's license has been revoked because of [his] the person's refusal to submit to a chemical test, [he] such person may petition for a hearing before a [court of record] circuit or associate circuit court in the county in which the arrest occurred. The person may request such court to issue an order staying the revocation until such time as the petition for review can be heard. If the court, in its discretion, grants such stay, it shall enter the order upon a form prescribed by the director of revenue and shall send a copy of such order to the director. Such order shall serve as proof of the privilege to operate a motor vehicle in this state and the director shall maintain possession of the person's license to operate a motor vehicle until termination of any revocation [under] pursuant to this section. Upon [his] the person's request the clerk of the court shall notify the prosecuting attorney of the county and the prosecutor shall appear at the hearing on behalf of the director of revenue. At the hearing the [judge] court shall determine only:

(1) Whether or not the person was arrested, stopped or detained;

(2) Whether or not either the arresting officer had reasonable grounds to believe that the person was driving a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition or the person was under the age of twenty-one and the officer who stopped or detained the person had during such stop or detention reasonable grounds to believe such person was driving a motor vehicle with an amount of alcohol in the person's blood that would require a notice of suspension or revocation pursuant to sections 302.500 to 302.541, RSMo; and

(3) Whether or not the person refused to submit to the test.

5. If the [judge] the court determines any issue not to be in the affirmative, [he] the court shall order the director to reinstate the license or permit to drive.

6. Requests for review as provided in this section shall go to the head of the docket of the court wherein filed.

7. No person who has had a license to operate a motor vehicle suspended or revoked [under] pursuant to the provisions of this section shall have that license reinstated until such person has participated in and successfully completed a substance abuse traffic offender program defined in section 577.001, except the department or the court may waive such requirement upon completion of a comparable program or upon good cause shown or the court may waive such requirement upon good cause shown. The court in making this determination shall consider the person's driving record, the circumstances surrounding the offense and the likelihood of the person committing a like offense in the future. Assignment recommendations, based upon the needs assessment as described in subdivision (21) of section 302.010, RSMo, shall be delivered in writing to the person with written notice that the person is entitled to have such assignment recommendations reviewed by the court if the person objects to the recommendations. The person may file a motion in the associate division of the circuit court, on a printed form provided by the state courts administrator, to have the court hear and determine such motion pursuant to the provisions of chapter 517, RSMo, after reviewing such assessment. The motion shall name the person or entity making the needs assessment as the respondent and a copy of the motion shall be served upon the respondent in any manner allowed by law. Such assessment and compliance with the court determination of the motion shall satisfy the provisions of this section for the purpose of reinstating such person's license to operate a motor vehicle. The respondent's personal appearance at any hearing conducted pursuant to this subsection shall not be necessary unless directed by the court.

8. The fees for the substance abuse traffic offender program, or a portion thereof to be determined by the division of alcohol and drug abuse of the department of mental health, shall be paid by the person enrolled in the program. Any person who is enrolled in the program shall pay, in addition to any fee charged for the program, a supplemental fee of sixty dollars. The administrator of the program shall remit to the division of alcohol and drug abuse of the department of mental health the supplemental fee for all persons enrolled in the program, less two percent for administrative costs. The supplemental fees received by the department of mental health pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the mental health earnings fund which is created in section 630.053, RSMo.".

"302.505. 1. The department shall suspend or revoke the license of any person upon its determination that the person was arrested upon probable cause to believe such person was driving a motor vehicle while the alcohol concentration in the person's blood, breath, or urine was [ten-hundredths] eight-hundredths of one percent or more by weight, based on the definition of alcohol concentration in section 302.500, or where such person was less than twenty-one years of age when stopped and was stopped upon probable cause to believe such person was driving while intoxicated in violation of section 577.010, RSMo, or driving with excessive blood alcohol content in violation of section 577.012, RSMo, or upon probable cause to believe such person violated a state, county or municipal traffic offense and such person was driving with a blood alcohol content of two-hundredths of one percent or more by weight.

2. The department shall make a determination of these facts on the basis of the report of a law enforcement officer required in section 302.510, and this determination shall be final unless a hearing is requested and held. If a hearing is held, the department shall review the matter and make a final determination on the basis of evidence received at the hearing.

3. The determination of these facts by the department is independent of the determination of the same or similar facts in the adjudication of any criminal charges arising out of the same occurrence. The disposition of those criminal charges shall not affect any suspension or revocation under this section.

302.510. 1. Except as provided in subsection 3 of this section, a law enforcement officer who arrests any person for a violation of any state statute related to driving while intoxicated or for a violation of a county or municipal ordinance prohibiting driving while intoxicated or a county or municipal alcohol related traffic offense, and in which the alcohol concentration in the person's blood, breath, or urine was [ten-hundredths] eight-hundredths of one percent or more by weight or two-hundredths of one percent or more by weight for anyone less than twenty-one years of age, shall forward to the department a verified report of all information relevant to the enforcement action, including information which adequately identifies the arrested person, a statement of the officer's grounds for belief that the person violated any state statute related to driving while intoxicated or was less than twenty-one years of age and was driving with two-hundredths of one percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, or a county or municipal ordinance prohibiting driving while intoxicated or a county or municipal alcohol related traffic offense, a report of the results of any chemical tests which were conducted, and a copy of the citation and complaint filed with the court.

2. The report required by this section shall be made on forms supplied by the department or in a manner specified by regulations of the department.

3. A county or municipal ordinance prohibiting driving while intoxicated or a county or municipal alcohol related traffic offense may not be the basis for suspension or revocation of a driver's license pursuant to sections 302.500 to 302.540, unless the arresting law enforcement officer, other than an elected peace officer or official, has been certified by the director of the department of public safety pursuant to the provisions of sections 590.100 to 590.180, RSMo.

302.520. 1. Whenever the chemical test results are available to the law enforcement officer while the arrested person is still in custody, and where the results show an alcohol concentration of [ten-hundredths] eight-hundredths of one percent or more by weight of alcohol in such person's blood or where such person is less than twenty-one years of age and the results show that there is two-hundredths of one percent or more of alcohol in the person's blood, the officer, acting on behalf of the department, shall serve the notice of suspension or revocation personally on the arrested person.

2. When the law enforcement officer serves the notice of suspension or revocation, the officer shall take possession of any driver's license issued by this state which is held by the person. When the officer takes possession of a valid driver's license issued by this state, the officer, acting on behalf of the department, shall issue a temporary permit which is valid for fifteen days after its date of issuance and shall also give the person arrested a notice which shall inform the person of all rights and responsibilities pursuant to sections 302.500 to 302.540. The notice shall be in such form so that the arrested person may sign the original as evidence of receipt thereof. The notice shall also contain a detachable form permitting the arrested person to request a hearing. Signing the hearing request form and mailing such request to the department shall constitute a formal application for a hearing.

3. A copy of the completed notice of suspension or revocation form, a copy of any completed temporary permit form, a copy of the notice of rights and responsibilities given to the arrested person, including any request for hearing, and any driver's license taken into possession pursuant to this section shall be forwarded to the department by the officer along with the report required in section 302.510.

4. The department shall provide forms for notice of suspension or revocation, for notice of rights and responsibilities, for request for a hearing and for temporary permits to law enforcement agencies.

302.541. 1. In addition to other fees required by law, any person who has had a license to operate a motor vehicle suspended or revoked following a determination, pursuant to section 302.505, or section 577.010, 577.012, 577.041 or 577.510, RSMo, or any county or municipal ordinance, where the judge in such case was an attorney and the defendant was represented by or waived the right to an attorney, that such person was driving while intoxicated or with a blood alcohol content of [ten-hundredths] eight-hundredths of one percent or more by weight or, where such person was at the time of the arrest less than twenty-one years of age and was driving with a blood alcohol content of two-hundredths of one percent or more by weight, shall pay an additional fee of twenty-five dollars prior to the reinstatement or reissuance of the license.

2. Any person less than twenty-one years of age whose driving privilege has been suspended or revoked solely for a first determination pursuant to sections 302.500 to 302.540 that such person was driving a motor vehicle with two-hundredths of one percent or more blood alcohol content is exempt from filing proof of financial responsibility with the department of revenue in accordance with chapter 303, RSMo, as a prerequisite for reinstatement of driving privileges or obtaining a restricted driving privilege as provided by section 302.525."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 57, Section 307.390, Line 8 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"577.012. 1. A person commits the crime of "driving with excessive blood alcohol content" if such person operates a motor vehicle in this state with [ten-hundredths] eight-hundredths of one percent or more by weight of alcohol in such person's blood.

2. As used in this section, percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per one hundred milliliters of blood or two hundred ten liters of breath and may be shown by chemical analysis of the person's blood, breath, saliva or urine. For the purposes of determining the alcoholic content of a person's blood under this section, the test shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of sections 577.020 to 577.041.

3. For the first offense, driving with excessive blood alcohol content is a class C misdemeanor.

577.037. 1. Upon the trial of any person for violation of any of the provisions of section 565.024, RSMo, or section 565.060, RSMo, or section 577.010 or 577.012, or upon the trial of any criminal action or violations of county or municipal ordinances or in any license suspension or revocation proceeding pursuant to the provisions of chapter 302, RSMo, arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition, the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the act alleged as shown by any chemical analysis of the person's blood, breath, saliva or urine is admissible in evidence and the provisions of subdivision (5) of section 491.060, RSMo, shall not prevent the admissibility or introduction of such evidence if otherwise admissible. If there was [ten-hundredths] eight-hundredths of one percent or more by weight of alcohol in the person's blood, this shall be prima facie evidence that the person was intoxicated at the time the specimen was taken.

2. Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood shall be based upon grams of alcohol per one hundred milliliters of blood or grams of alcohol per two hundred ten liters of breath.

3. The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed as limiting the introduction of any other competent evidence bearing upon the question whether the person was intoxicated.

4. A chemical analysis of a person's breath, blood, saliva or urine, in order to give rise to the presumption or to have the effect provided for in subsection 1 of this section, shall have been performed as provided in sections 577.020 to 577.041 and in accordance with methods and standards approved by the state department of health.

5. Any charge alleging a violation of section 577.010 or 577.012 or any county or municipal ordinance prohibiting driving while intoxicated or driving under the influence of alcohol shall be dismissed with prejudice if a chemical analysis of the defendant's breath, blood, saliva, or urine performed in accordance with sections 577.020 to 577.041 and rules promulgated thereunder by the state department of health demonstrate that there was less than [ten-hundredths] eight-hundredths of one percent of alcohol in the defendant's blood unless one or more of the following considerations cause the court to find a dismissal unwarranted:

(1) There is evidence that the chemical analysis is unreliable as evidence of the defendant's intoxication at the time of the alleged violation due to the lapse of time between the alleged violation and the obtaining of the specimen;

(2) There is evidence that the defendant was under the influence of a controlled substance, or drug, or a combination of either or both with or without alcohol; or

(3) There is substantial evidence of intoxication from physical observations of witnesses or admissions of the defendant.".

(1) To any person who is under the age of eighteen years, if such person operates a motor vehicle in the transportation of persons or property as classified in section 302.015;

(2) To any person who is under the age of sixteen years, except as hereinafter provided;

(3) To any person whose license has been suspended, during such suspension, or to any person whose license has been revoked, until the expiration of one year after such license was revoked;

(4) To any person who is an habitual drunkard or is addicted to the use of narcotic drugs;

(5) To any person who has previously been adjudged to be incapacitated and who at the time of application has not been restored to partial capacity;

(6) To any person who, when required by this law to take an examination, has failed to pass such examination;

(7) To any person who has an unsatisfied judgment against such person, as defined in chapter 303, RSMo, until such judgment has been satisfied or the financial responsibility of such person, as defined in section 303.120, RSMo, has been established;

(8) To any person whose application shows that the person has been convicted within one year prior to such application of violating the laws of this state relating to failure to stop after an accident and to disclose the person's identity or driving a motor vehicle without the owner's consent;

(9) To any person who has been convicted more than twice of violating state law, or a county or municipal ordinance where the judge in such cases was an attorney and the defendant was represented by or waived the right to an attorney in writing, relating to driving while intoxicated; [except that, after the expiration of ten years from the date of conviction of the last offense of violating such law or ordinance relating to driving while intoxicated, a person who was so convicted may petition the circuit court of the county in which such last conviction was rendered and the court shall review the person's habits and conduct since such conviction. If the court finds that the petitioner has not been convicted of any offense related to alcohol, controlled substances or drugs during the preceding ten years and that the petitioner's habits and conduct show such petitioner to no longer pose a threat to the public safety of this state, the court may order the director to issue a license to the petitioner if the petitioner is otherwise qualified pursuant to the provisions of sections 302.010 to 302.540. No person may obtain a license pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision through court action more than one time;]

(10) To any person who has been convicted twice within a five-year period of violating state law, or a county or municipal ordinance where the judge in such cases was an attorney and the defendant was represented by or waived the right to an attorney in writing, of driving while intoxicated, or who has been convicted of the crime of involuntary manslaughter while operating a motor vehicle in an intoxicated condition. The director shall not issue a license to such person for five years from the date such person was convicted for involuntary manslaughter while operating a motor vehicle in an intoxicated condition or for driving while intoxicated for the second time. Any person who has been denied a license for two convictions of driving while intoxicated prior to July 27, 1989, shall have the person's license issued, upon application, unless the two convictions occurred within a five-year period, in which case, no license shall be issued to the person for five years from the date of the second conviction;

(11) To any person who is otherwise disqualified pursuant to the provisions of sections 302.010 to 302.780, chapter 303, RSMo, or section 544.046, RSMo.

2. Any person to whom the director is unauthorized to issue a license pursuant to subdivision (9) of subsection 1 of this section shall be ineligible to receive a hardship, limited or restricted driving privilege pursuant to section 302.309."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 9, Section 302.302, Line 8 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"302.309. 1. Whenever any license is suspended pursuant to sections 302.302 to 302.309, the director of revenue shall return the license to the operator immediately upon the termination of the period of suspension and upon compliance with the requirements of chapter 303, RSMo.

2. Any operator whose license is revoked under these sections, upon the termination of the period of revocation, shall apply for a new license in the manner prescribed by law.

3. (1) All circuit courts or the director of revenue shall have jurisdiction to hear applications and make eligibility determinations granting limited driving privileges. Any application may be made in writing to the director of revenue and the person's reasons for requesting the limited driving privileges shall be made therein.

(2) When any court of record having jurisdiction or the director of revenue finds that an operator is required to operate a motor vehicle in connection with any of the following:

(a) A business, occupation, or employment;

(b) Seeking medical treatment for such operator;

(c) Attending school or other institution of higher education;

(d) Attending alcohol or drug treatment programs; or

(e) Any other circumstance the court or director finds would create an undue hardship on the operator; the court or director may grant such limited driving privilege as the circumstances of the case justify if the court or director finds undue hardship would result to the individual, and while so operating a motor vehicle within the restrictions and limitations of the limited driving privileges the driver shall not be guilty of operating a motor vehicle without a valid license.

(3) An operator may make application to the proper court in the county in which such operator resides or in the county in which is located the operator's principal place of business or employment. Any application for a limited driving privilege made to a circuit court shall name the director as a party defendant and shall be served upon the director prior to the grant of any limited privileges, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the applicant's driving record as certified by the director. Any applicant for a limited driving privilege shall have on file with the department of revenue proof of financial responsibility as required by chapter 303, RSMo. Any application by a person who transports persons or property as classified in section 302.015 may be accompanied by proof of financial responsibility as required by chapter 303, RSMo, but if proof of financial responsibility does not accompany the application, or if the applicant does not have on file with the department of revenue proof of financial responsibility, the court or the director has discretion to grant the limited driving privilege to the person solely for the purpose of operating a vehicle whose owner has complied with chapter 303, RSMo, for that vehicle, and the limited driving privilege must state such restriction. When operating such vehicle under such restriction the person shall carry proof that the owner has complied with chapter 303, RSMo, for that vehicle.

(4) The court order or the director's grant of the limited driving privilege shall indicate the termination date of the privilege, which shall be not later than the end of the period of suspension or revocation. A copy of any court order shall be sent by the clerk of the court to the director, and a copy shall be given to the driver which shall be carried by the driver whenever such driver operates a motor vehicle. The director of revenue upon granting a limited driving privilege shall give a copy of the limited driving privilege to the applicant. The applicant shall carry a copy of the limited driving privilege while operating a motor vehicle. A conviction which results in the assessment of points under the provisions of section 302.302, other than a violation of a municipal stop sign ordinance where no accident is involved, against a driver who is operating a vehicle under the authority of a limited driving privilege terminates the privilege, as of the date the points are assessed to the person's driving record. If the date of arrest is prior to the issuance of the limited driving privilege, the privilege shall not be terminated. The director shall notify by ordinary mail the driver whose privilege is so terminated.

(5) Except as provided in subdivision (6) of this subsection, no person is eligible to receive hardship driving privilege whose license has been suspended or revoked for the following reasons:

(a) A conviction of violating the provisions of section 577.010 or 577.012, RSMo, or any similar provision of any federal or state law, or a municipal or county law where the judge in such case was an attorney and the defendant was represented by or waived the right to an attorney in writing, until the person has completed the first thirty days of a suspension or revocation imposed pursuant to this chapter;

(b) A conviction of any felony in the commission of which a motor vehicle was used;

(c) Ineligibility for a license because of the provisions of subdivision (1), (2), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10) or (11) of section 302.060;

(d) Because of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of narcotic drugs, a controlled substance as defined in chapter 195, RSMo, or having left the scene of an accident as provided in section 577.060, RSMo;

(e) Due to a revocation for the first time for failure to submit to a chemical test pursuant to section 577.041, RSMo, or due to a refusal to submit to a chemical test in any other state, if such person has not completed the first ninety days of such revocation;

(f) Violation more than once of the provisions of section 577.041, RSMo, or a similar implied consent law of any other state;

(g) Disqualification of a commercial driver's license pursuant to sections 302.700 to 302.780, however, nothing in this subsection shall prevent a person holding a commercial driver's license who is suspended or revoked as a result of an action occurring while not driving a commercial motor vehicle or driving for pay, but while driving in an individual capacity as an operator of a personal vehicle from applying for hardship driving privileges to operate a commercial vehicle, if otherwise eligible for such hardship privilege; or

(h) Due to a suspension pursuant to subsection 2 of section 302.525 and who has not completed the first thirty days of such suspension, provided the person is not otherwise ineligible for limited driving privileges; or due to a revocation under subsection 2 of section 302.525 if such person has not completed such revocation;

(i) Has been convicted of more than two alcohol-related convictions pursuant to subdivision (9) of subsection 1 of section 302.060.

(6) (a) Provided that pursuant to the provisions of this section, the applicant is not otherwise ineligible for a limited driving privilege, a circuit court or the director may, in the manner prescribed in this subsection, allow a person who has had such person's license to operate a motor vehicle revoked where that person cannot obtain a new license for a period of ten years, as prescribed in subdivision (9) of section 302.060, to apply for limited driving privileges pursuant to this subsection if such person has served at least three years of such disqualification or revocation. Such person shall present evidence satisfactory to the court or the director that such person has not been convicted of any offense related to alcohol, controlled substances or drugs during the preceding three years and that the person's habits and conduct show that the person no longer poses a threat to the public safety of this state.

(b) A circuit court or the director may, in the manner prescribed in this subsection, allow a person who has had such person's license to operate a motor vehicle revoked where that person cannot obtain a new license for a period of five years, as prescribed in subdivision (10) of section 302.060, to apply for limited driving privileges pursuant to this subsection if such person has served at least two years of such disqualification or revocation. Such person shall present evidence satisfactory to the court or the director that such person has not been convicted of any offense related to alcohol, controlled substances or drugs during the preceding two years and that the person's habits and conduct show that the person no longer poses a threat to the public safety of this state. Any person who is denied a license permanently in this state because of an alcohol-related conviction subsequent to a restoration of such person's driving privileges pursuant to subdivision (9) of section 302.060 shall not be eligible for limited driving privileges pursuant to the provisions of this subdivision.

4. Any person who has received notice of denial of a request of limited driving privileges by the director of revenue may make a request for a review of the director's determination in the circuit court of the county in which the person resides or the county in which is located the person's principal place of business or employment within thirty days of the date of mailing of the notice of denial. [9.] 8. No rule or portion of a rule promulgated under the authority of this chapter shall become effective until it has been approved by the joint committee on administrative rules in accordance with the procedures provided herein, and the delegation of the legislative authority to enact law by the adoption of such rules is dependent upon the power of the joint committee on administrative rules to review and suspend rules pending ratification by the senate and the house of representatives as provided herein.

"302.130. 1. Any person at least fifteen and one-half years of age who, except for age or lack of instruction in operating a motor vehicle, would otherwise be qualified to obtain a license pursuant to sections 302.010 to 302.340 may apply for and the director shall issue a temporary instruction permit entitling the applicant, while having such permit in the applicant's immediate possession, to drive a motor vehicle of the appropriate class upon the highways for a period of six months, but any such person, except when operating a motorcycle or motortricycle, must be accompanied by a licensed operator for the type of motor vehicle being operated who is actually occupying a seat beside the driver for the purpose of giving instruction in driving the motor vehicle, and in the case of any driver under sixteen years of age, the licensed operator occupying the seat beside the driver shall be a grandparent, parent or guardian who has a valid driver's license.

An authorized designee must be a licensed operator for the type of motor vehicle being operated and have attained twenty-one years of age. At least one of the designees must occupy the seat beside the applicant while giving instruction in driving the motor vehicle. [3.] 4. 3. On any state road or highway where the speed limit is not set pursuant to a local ordinance, the highways and transportation commission may set a speed limit higher or lower than the uniform maximum speed limit provided in subsection 2 of this section, if a higher or lower speed limit is recommended by the department of highways and transportation. The department of public safety, where it believes for safety reasons, or to expedite the flow of traffic a higher or lower speed limit is warranted, may request the department of highways and transportation to raise or lower such speed limit, except that no speed limit shall be set higher than seventy miles per hour.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 304.120 or any other provision of law to the contrary, cities, towns and villages may regulate the speed of vehicles on state roads and highways within such cities', towns' or villages' corporate limits by ordinance with the approval of the state highways and transportation commission. The county commission of any county of the second, third or fourth classification may set the speed limit or the weight limit or both the speed limit and the weight limit on roads or bridges on any county, township or road district road in the county and, with the approval of the state highways and transportation commission, on any state road or highway not within the limits of any incorporated city, town or village, lower than the uniform maximum speed limit as provided in subsection 2 of this section where the condition of the road or the nature of the area requires a lower speed. The commission shall send copies of any order establishing a speed limit or weight limit on roads and bridges on a county, township or road district road in the county to the chief engineer of the state department of highways and transportation, the superintendent of the state highway patrol and to any township or road district maintaining roads in the county. After the roads have been properly marked by signs indicating the speed limits and weight limits set by the county commission, the speed limits and weight limits shall be of the same effect as the speed limits provided for in subsection [1] 2 of this section and shall be enforced by the state highway patrol and the county sheriff as if such speed limits and weight limits were established by state law.

6. All road signs indicating speed limits or weight limits shall be uniform in size, shape, lettering and coloring and shall conform to standards established by the department of transportation.

7. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to alter any speed limit set below fifty-five miles per hour by any ordinance of any county, city, town or village of the state adopted before March 13, 1996.

"301.140. 1. Upon the transfer of ownership of any motor vehicle or trailer, the certificate of registration and the right to use the number plates shall expire and the number plates shall be removed by the owner at the time of the transfer of possession, and it shall be unlawful for any person other than the person to whom such number plates were originally issued to have the same in his or her possession whether in use or not; except that the buyer of a motor vehicle or trailer who trades in a motor vehicle or trailer may attach the license plates from the traded-in motor vehicle or trailer to the newly purchased motor vehicle or trailer. The operation of a motor vehicle with such transferred plates shall be lawful for no more than thirty days. As used in this subsection, the term "trade- in motor vehicle or trailer" shall include any single motor vehicle or trailer sold by the buyer of the newly purchased vehicle or trailer, as long as the license plates for the trade-in motor vehicle or trailer are still valid.

2. 4. Upon the sale of a motor vehicle or trailer by a dealer, a buyer who has made application for registration, by mail or otherwise, may operate the same for a period of fifteen days after taking possession thereof, if during such period the motor vehicle or trailer shall have attached thereto, in the manner required by section 301.130, number plates issued to the dealer. Upon application and presentation of satisfactory evidence that the buyer has applied for registration, a dealer may furnish such number plates to the buyer for such temporary use. In such event, the dealer shall require the buyer to deposit the sum of ten dollars and fifty cents to be returned to the buyer upon return of the number plates as a guarantee that said buyer will return to the dealer such number plates within fifteen days. The director shall make temporary plates or permits available to registered dealers in this state in sets of ten plates or permits. The fee for the temporary permit or plate shall be seven dollars and fifty cents for each permit or plate issued. No dealer shall charge more than seven dollars and fifty cents for each permit issued. The permit or plate shall be valid for a period of [twenty] thirty days from the date of [issuance] purchase by the director of revenue to the purchaser of a motor vehicle or trailer, or from the date of sale of the motor vehicle or trailer by a dealer for which the purchaser obtains a permit or plate as set out above.

6. The permit or plate shall be issued on a form prescribed by the director and issued only for the applicant's use in the operation of the motor vehicle or trailer purchased to enable him to legally operate the vehicle while proper title and registration plate are being obtained, and shall be displayed on no other vehicle. Permits or paper plates issued under this section shall not be transferable or renewable and shall not be valid upon issuance of proper registration plates for the motor vehicle or trailer. The director shall determine the size and numbering configuration, construction, and color of the permit and plate.

7. The dealer or authorized agent shall insert the date of issuance and expiration date, year, make, and manufacturer's number of vehicle on the paper plate or permit when issued to the buyer. The dealer shall also insert his dealer's number on the paper plate. Every dealer that issues a temporary permit or paper plate shall keep, for inspection of proper officers, a correct record of each permit or plate issued by him by recording the

Further amend said bill, Page 23, Section 303.290, Line 13, by inserting immediately after all of said line the following:

"304.010. 1. As used in this section, the following terms mean:

(1) "Expressway", a divided highway of at least ten miles in length with four or more lanes which is not part of the federal interstate system of highways which has crossovers or accesses from streets, roads or other highways at the same grade level as such divided highway;

(2) "Freeway", a limited access divided highway of at least ten miles in length with four or more lanes which is not part of the federal interstate system of highways which does not have any crossovers or accesses from streets, roads or other highways at the same grade level as such divided highway within such ten miles of divided highway;

(3) "Rural interstate", that part of the federal interstate highway system that is not located in an urban area;

(4) "Urbanized area", an area of fifty thousand population at a density at or greater than one thousand persons per square mile.

2. Except as otherwise provided in this section, the uniform maximum speed limits are and no vehicle shall be operated in excess of the speed limits established pursuant to this section:

(1) Upon the rural interstates and freeways of this state, seventy miles per hour;

(2) Upon the rural expressways of this state, sixty-five miles per hour;

(3) Upon the interstate highways, freeways or expressways within the urbanized areas of this state, sixty miles per hour;

(4) All other roads and highways in this state not located in an urbanized area and not provided [by] for in subdivisions (1) to (3) of this subsection, sixty miles per hour;

(5) All other roads provided for in subdivision (4) of this subsection shall not include any state two-lane road which is identified by letter. Such lettered roads shall not exceed fifty-five miles per hour unless set at a higher speed as established by the department of highways and transportation, except that no speed limit shall be set higher than sixty miles per hour;

(6) For the purposes of enforcing the speed limit laws of this state, it is a rebuttable presumption that the posted speed limit is the legal speed limit.

3. On any state road or highway where the speed limit is not set pursuant to a local ordinance, the highways and transportation commission may set a speed limit higher or lower than the uniform maximum speed limit provided in subsection 2 of this section, if a higher or lower speed limit is recommended by the department of highways and transportation. The department of public safety, where it believes for safety reasons, or to expedite the flow of traffic a higher or lower speed limit is warranted, may request the department of highways and transportation to raise or lower such speed limit, except that no speed limit shall be set higher than seventy miles per hour.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 304.120 or any other provision of law to the contrary, cities, towns and villages may regulate the speed of vehicles on state roads and highways within such cities', towns' or villages' corporate limits by ordinance with the approval of the state highways and transportation commission. Any reduction of speed in cities, towns or villages shall be designed to expedite the flow of traffic on such state roads and highways to the extent consistent with public safety. The commission may declare any ordinance void if it finds that such ordinance is:

(1) Not primarily designed to expedite traffic flow; and

(2) Primarily designed to produce revenue for the city, town or village which enacted such ordinance.

If an ordinance is declared void, the city, town or village shall have any future proposed ordinance approved by the highways and transportation commission before such ordinance may take effect.

5. The county commission of any county of the second, third or fourth classification may set the speed limit or the weight limit or both the speed limit and the weight limit on roads or bridges on any county, township or road district road in the county and, with the approval of the state highways and transportation commission, on any state road or highway not within the limits of any incorporated city, town or village, lower than the uniform maximum speed limit as provided in subsection 2 of this section where the condition of the road or the nature of the area requires a lower speed. The commission shall send copies of any order establishing a speed limit or weight limit on roads and bridges on a county, township or road district road in the county to the chief engineer of the state department of highways and transportation, the superintendent of the state highway patrol and to any township or road district maintaining roads in the county. After the roads have been properly marked by signs indicating the speed limits and weight limits set by the county commission, the speed limits and weight limits shall be of the same effect as the speed limits provided for in subsection [1] 2 of this section and shall be enforced by the state highway patrol and the county sheriff as if such speed limits and weight limits were established by state law.

6. All road signs indicating speed limits or weight limits shall be uniform in size, shape, lettering and coloring and shall conform to standards established by the department of transportation.

7. The provisions of this section shall not be construed to alter any speed limit set below fifty-five miles per hour by any ordinance of any county, city, town or village of the state adopted before March 13, 1996.

8. The speed limits established pursuant to this section shall not apply to the operation of any emergency vehicle as defined in section 304.022.

9. No truck registered for a gross weight of more than twenty-four thousand pounds shall enter a lane to the left of the innermost (right) traffic lane within 1000 feet of any motor vehicle traveling in such lane.

[9.] 10. A violation of the provisions of this section shall not be construed to relieve the parties in any civil action on any claim or counterclaim from the burden of proving negligence or contributory negligence as the proximate cause of any accident or as the defense to a negligence action.

[10.] 11. Any person violating the provisions of this section is guilty of a class C misdemeanor, unless such person was exceeding the posted speed limit by twenty miles per hour or more then it is a class B misdemeanor.".
